IMPORTANT NOTICE

In spite of clubs adhering to a Football League directive and not supplying information for inclusion in this year's edition, we were pleased with a positive response from more than two-thirds of the members. However, for the remainder, some of the details relating to their pages may not be as up-to-date as we would have wished.

INTRODUCTION

The 31st edition of Rothmans Football Yearbook again features historical and record information for the 92 English clubs. This includes each club's full record in the previous ten seasons and the latest sequences recorded for wins, draws and defeats, etc. There is also an article by our guest writer Alan Curbishley, the manager of Charlton Athletic, who successfully guided the South London club back to the FA Carling Premiership.

Full coverage is given for the Euro 2000 competition both for the qualifying stages and the final tournament itself, with results, scorers, teams and attendances.

Detailed and varied coverage involves the FA Premier League, Football League, Scottish, Welsh and Irish football, amateur, schools, university, reserve team, extensive non-league information, awards, records and an international directory, the Football Trust, Football and the Law, coaching, women's football, referees and the work of chaplains.

Transfer fees are given where known. When two clubs have differed as to the amount of a record move, the lower figure has been quoted in both instances. For certain entries, the figure quoted in the list of transfers may be the original one without extra finance built in for appearances and other reasons, which would appear subsequently as a record fee on the relevant club page. Also the date when a player is signed often varies from the one given as his registration and the diary occasionally refers to the transfer fee originally discussed.

A frequent question asked is why Football League records have not been changed since the advent of the Premier League. The answer is simple: the Football League still considers its First Division to be a championship which has existed for over 100 years.

The Editors would like to thank Alan Elliott for the Scottish section, Bob Hennessy for the Milestones Diary and Ian Vosper for the obituaries. Thanks are also due to John English who provided invaluable and conscientious reading of the proofs. The Editors would like to pay tribute to the various organisations who have helped to make this edition complete, especially Mike Foster, Adrian Cook and Jonathan Hargreaves of the FA Premier League, and David C. Thomson of the Scottish League.

VIEWPOINT

by Alan Curbishley

I wonder how many times this summer Joe Royle and George Burley, the respective managers of newly promoted Manchester City and Ipswich Town, have been asked how they intend to bridge the gap that undoubtedly exists between the Premiership and the Nationwide League? Of course, it is an obvious question – and it is one to which Joe, George and I must find the answer very quickly if we are to survive next season.

How has this gap appeared? The principal reason lies in the significant difference in the financial rewards available to the two leagues: since its formation the Premiership has benefited from huge television and commercial revenues, amounts which dwarf those available to the Nationwide League clubs. Since BSkyB secured the television rights to the Premiership, the gap has continued to widen season by season. If you compare what a Nationwide League Division One side has received for the last four seasons with that of a Premiership side over the same period, the difference would be in the order of £20–25 million.

The current television deal expires at the end of the 2000–2001 season and the massive income generated by the new deal will serve to deepen the divide to such an extent that it is quite feasible that no promoted Nationwide League clubs will be able to retain their new-found status. On average a Premiership club can expect to receive around £5–6 million per season from the existing TV deal. This contrasts sharply with the £1 million paid to Nationwide League clubs. The new deal could see the average Premiership side receiving £15 million compared with £2–3 million in the Nationwide League.

The majority of Premiership teams are now well established and have used the vast resources available to them to strengthen their clubs, both on and off the field. Many have invested not only in players but also in increasing the capacity of their stadia and in developing youth academies to produce their own home-grown talent. The level of investment that these Premiership sides have been able to make, and the strength this has given them as clubs, makes them infinitely more powerful than any promoted club.

Many clubs relegated from the Premiership have endured real financial hardship. Relegated sides do receive a 'parachute payment', currently some £2 million per year, the intention being to ensure that the higher wage costs incurred in the Premiership are, to some extent, covered. This payment lasts for two seasons and it does give the relegated sides some chance of 'bouncing back' at the first attempt, which is why, in recent years, clubs such as Crystal Palace, Bolton Wanderers and Middlesbrough have managed to do what we achieved last season. Having said this, there is a stark lesson for all of us in what happened to Crystal Palace last season and the severe financial problems they faced.

We must all take heart from the achievements of Bradford City in 1999–2000. The role models for us, however, are Leicester City and Derby County who have survived in the Premiership for a number of seasons. If we can use the resources placed at our disposal in the same way, it will help us realise our ambition of establishing Charlton Athletic as a Premiership club. It will not be easy and the fantastic team spirit and organisation, which have been the cornerstone of our achievements in recent years, will be key factors in our bid to retain our newly won status. We will strengthen our squad principally with British players but at the same time we will radically overhaul our existing scouting structures to improve our knowledge of the overseas market, something it is difficult for a Nationwide League club to do because of financial constraints.

With the continuing inflation in the cost of domestic players, more and more clubs will look to the overseas market where there is better value for money. This will serve to fuel further the current debate on the effect the continuing influx of foreign players is having on the Premiership and the national team. With regard to the latter, it is fairly self-evident that if the number of foreign players continues to rise at the present rate, the number of players available to the national team manager will be seriously reduced. The trend could also have the effect of stifling the development of our very best young players. We must not allow this to happen and Kevin Keegan's fear that the national team manager will be looking to select players from the Nationwide League must not be permitted to become a reality.

Unlike when I played, many of today's youngsters will perhaps not get the opportunity to play in their first team at an early stage, unless of course they are exceptionally talented. If that talent is not given a platform on which to perform early on, there is a risk that some very gifted players may well drift out of the game. The advent of youth academies, and the effort that everyone in the game is making to produce quality young players, gives us all hope that the best players will come through. The difference nowadays is that they may need to demonstrate their talent instantly as there is little patience in the game at the top level.

However, I look at our current crop of England Under-21 players and am encouraged by the emergence of players like Richard Wright, Rio Ferdinand, Gareth Barry, Frank Lampard, Lee Hendrie, Emile Heskey and Michael Owen. If these players can continue to progress at their current rate, then perhaps the future for our national side may not be so bleak after all.

The more successful foreign players have, in fairness, brought a style of professionalism that has undoubtedly rubbed off on our own players. Foreign managers and coaches, too, have brought different attitudes and methods which have positively influenced our domestic coaches. I believe, though, that the time has come for the number of non-British players to be limited to a maximum of six per club although it is likely that the Bosman ruling in the European courts is only the start of increasing legislative control of the professional game and my proposal may fall down on legal grounds.

As the game progresses and attracts ever-increasing revenues, there is inevitably more pressure on clubs to succeed. It is vital, therefore, that we do everything we possibly can to assist referees in the very difficult job they have to do each week. I rarely criticise a referee's performance even when I feel that decisions may have gone against my team, because I realise what a difficult task it is. Nobody sets out to make a wrong decision, but such judgements are made and perhaps, to some extent, add something to the after-match debates. They certainly keep the soccer pundits fully employed! Football is an instant game requiring instant decisions but I do believe that we should look at the introduction of new technology to aid referees.

Decisions as to whether the ball has crossed the line or not, or whether a tackle was made inside or outside the penalty box, can end up costing clubs millions of pounds and it would not be difficult to introduce new methods of corroboration in such cases – for example, the results of instant video replays could be communicated straight to the referee on the pitch by the fourth official. I am not calling for the game to be stopped continuously as it would lose its flow and momentum, but it is vital that the right decisions are made. I also think referees should be allowed to study videos of matches after the game and re-examine key incidents. If a player has been incorrectly booked, is it so bad that the decision is subsequently overturned? Natural justice must come before everything else.

The drive for success is relentless. As the stakes are raised, it is inevitable that more managers will lose their jobs. There are significant rewards for success, but it is interesting that Sir Alex Ferguson, currently the most successful manager in the country, has been at Old Trafford for some thirteen years and I have been at Charlton for nine years. Both of us have had our problems but the lesson to be learned is that, in both cases, our clubs have achieved success because the chairmen have been patient. It is a lesson that chairmen up and down the country would do well to reflect upon.

EDITORIAL

History can spin on the most trivial turn of events. The first competitive victory over Germany for 34 years produces a euphoric atmosphere bordering on hysteria. Confidence is sky-high until one ill-timed tackle sends the team careering out of the competition and produces the most damming judgment on the state of our game.

Alas results still cloud our senses. We see everything in black and white, winning and losing. It is the grey areas which should be analysed whatever the score. And naive tactics, woeful lack of creation and inability to pass the ball at any distance makes sad reading for our finest. When will we learn to be more objective in our criticism? But the problem lies much deeper.

There is precious little point in claiming that there are too many foreigners in the English game. There always have been. With Scots, Welsh and Irish gracing our teams as long as the organised game has existed, today there are simply more players unqualified for England, only now they come from France, Holland, Norway and other places.

The root cause of the lack of success at international level is that we do not have the same level of world class skill possessed by the best continental and South American players. It may be argued that we have more players of a certain standard of ability sound enough for domestic needs, but elsewhere they have the edge with technique and flair, which alas is not our style.

Our stalwart characteristics of grit, determination and stamina have time and again proved inadequate against opponents who can withstand these onslaughts and override our deficiencies in the area of simply manipulating the ball.

It might seem like heresy to say so, but unless there is the greatest revolution in the way our game is taught, we may never again achieve international success.

However, there is a movement at grass roots level to change the way our youth is encouraged to play. It comes from Brazil. The aspiring lads of Rio, Sao Paulo and other states train with a smaller and heavier ball, which has to be firmly controlled and is ideal for short passing. More importantly, it is impossible for it to be used in the long ball game.

The thinking behind this innovation is that if it improves the ball control of our boys, the traditional assets of countless England teams down the years, will at last give us the opportunity of competing with the best without the embarrassment which accompanies inevitable defeat. Clearly the need is urgent; England Under-16s 1, Brazil 2 at the Stadium of Light, Sunderland in July beams the message distinctly enough.

This is the theory. Changing attitudes may not be as easy in practice. Youngsters are accustomed to play in formation at an early age, regardless of whether they have the basic ability to control the ball. Pure basic mastery, before thoughts of artistry with the ball, should be a priority instilled into them before they even play in a match.

At least in terms of the World Cup being staged in this country, the short-term is taken care of after the fiasco of the voting for the 2006 finals. We have time to make amends on the field before we ever have the chance of holding the finals here. A costly £10m presidential-style campaign was poorly presented and the government's last minute attempt at legislation to prevent the hooligan touring company from entertaining abroad in the wake of the Charleroi rioting at Euro 2000 merely put a pathetic last chapter on the entire sorry tale. The beautiful game continues to attract the ugly people. But while our society allows the civil rights of the perpetrators to take precedence over those of the victims, that will remain a serious concern.

On moral grounds the finals should have gone to South Africa, but the security aspect would have presented endless problems. But there has to be a system of rotation to enable every confederation to have the finals. If we are to ignore Africa for example, one has to revert to the previous system when the so-called minnows had minimum recognition. And presidents of FIFA are not elected on that platform. Germany won the right to stage World Cup 2006, largely because everyone underestimated them as they frequently have done on the field and off it.

ROTHMANS FOOTBALL YEARBOOK HONOURS

For the fifth consecutive year, members of the Football Writers' Association selected their team of the season for Rothmans Football Yearbook. As in previous years, players eligible had to have appeared in FA Carling Premiership matches during the season.

This year, to mark the New Millennium, members were asked to cast their votes for the English League Manager of the Century, Player of the Century and Team of the Century. The manager was chosen for his overall achievements between 1900 and 2000 as was the player over the same period, but the team award was for a specific season.

For the 1999–2000 Premiership, most members again preferred selecting players in a 4-4-2 formation. Despite achieving their sixth such title in eight years, Manchester United's representation on the final selection was cut in half from last year with only Jaap Stam, David Beckham and Roy Keane retaining their places.

This trend enabled more clubs to be represented. Leeds United had a trio of their own in Nigel Martyn, Ian Harte and Harry Kewell, who had almost made the final team in 1998–99. Harte faced strong opposition from Manchester United's Denis Irwin and Silvinho the Brazilian at Arsenal, while Paul Scholes (Manchester United) and Patrick Vieira (Arsenal) received a substantial share of the votes in midfield.

Chelsea had two, right-back Albert Ferrer and midfield player Dennis Wise, while the Liverpool central defender Sami Hyypia was well supported among the back four. Newcastle United's Alan Shearer, who missed out in the previous season, returned up front to partner Kevin Phillips, whose first season in the Premiership netted him 30 goals at Sunderland.

Once again, Sir Alex Ferguson of Manchester United took the managerial award, while Marcel Desailly (Chelsea), Ryan Giggs (Manchester United) and Thierry Henry (Arsenal) were nominated as substitutes.

The Manager of the Century was Bob Paisley of Liverpool, the most successful English club manager, with twenty various trophies at home and abroad between 1974 and 1983. He had strong challenges from Sir Alex Ferguson and Bill Nicholson, who guided Tottenham Hotspur in the 1960's.

In Euro U-21 Championships in Bratislava, England lose their opener to Italy. June 2000

Burton in charge ... O'Neill takes Celtic post ... £15m gets Hasselbaink ... England win in Malta ... Higher fees for refs ... Wright retires ... Villa's Southgate wants to leave ... Busby babe Brennan dies ... Shearer jab ... Euro 2000 start ... Foxes appoint Taylor

1 The Dons appoint Terry Burton as manager on a permanent basis. Leicester's Martin O'Neill leaves Leicester and signs a lucrative 3-year contract becoming Celtic's 8th boss in 9 years saying it took him only 2 and half seconds to agree to join the Glasgow giants. England slump out of the EC U-21 Championship losing 2-1 to host nation Slovakia. Blackburn pay £1.5m to Man U for U-21, reserve defender John Curtis.

2 Chelsea splash £15m for Jimmy Floyd Hasselbaink a year after the Dutch striker left Leeds for Atl Madrid in a £12m deal. Darlington will be docked a point next season if there is a repeat of the April 5 ugly scenes when a Quaker fan punched a Shrewsbury player.

3 With all-action Barmby the only plus point, Keegan admits if England repeat the stuttering form of the 2-1 victory in Malta, they face instant exit from Euro 2000. Goalie Richard Wright concedes 2 penalties, saves one, then crucially denies the Maltese in injury-time. In a clash resembling a practice match Keown and Shearer's replacement Heskey both score as the home nation utilise their reserves – all 11 of them!

4 Darren Debono complains that Shearer should have been sent off after the England skipper used an elbow and broke the Maltese defender's nose. Peter Schmeichel scores from a penalty in his 121st international as Denmark draw 2-2 with Belgium.

5 Premership refs will double their match fees to £1,200 next season widening the gap with Nationwide League officials on £195. Dave Jones, relieved of managerial duties at Saints because of an impending court case, is taking the club to an independent tribunal maintaining he is sacked and is owed £300,000 contract monies. FIFA's Sepp Blatter suggests moving England's Euro clash with Germany from Charleroi to allay safety fears would make sense.

6 FIFA back down from enforcing a Premiership winter break and, instead, agree 12 dates between Feb and Dec for internationals and 16 for events such as the Champions League. But clubs must release players for internationals, African Nations Cup and the Gold Cup. An awards panel including Kevin Keegan selects Sunderland's Kevin Phillips as Carling's Player of the Year after netting 30 goals. FAW permit Mark Hughes to continue playing for a further 2 years remaining part-time national manager for half of the 4 years on his contract.

7 Strong speculation that S American voting countries will back S Africa's bid for WC 2006 in return for support to enable Brazil stage the bid for 2010. Ian Wright, 36, former Arsenal and England striker, shocks promoted Burnley by confirming he is retiring to concentrate on his television commitments. Liverpool pay £3m for French WC winger Bernard Diomede. The Duke of York, better known in sporting circles for his love of golf, is to succeed the Duke of Kent as the FA president. 9 Arsenal will ban at least 40 fans involved in pre-match violence that marred the UEFA Cup Final against Galatasaray. Shay Brennan, a 1968 Man U European Cup hero, dies following a heart attack while playing golf in Waterford. Promoted Ipswich give £5m-rated goalie Richard Wright a 'sign or be sold' ultimatum.

10 England camp forced to issue a statement revealing skipper Shearer has received a controversial anti-inflammatory injection to help recover from a knee injury. As Euro 2000 gets under way before 50,000 at Stade Roi Baudouin in Brussels joint-hosts Belgium grab goals either side of the interval to gain a 2-1 victory over Sweden who had not conceded a score for 761 min in competitive football. Rushden & Diamonds break the non-League transfer record paying £180,000 for Morecambe striker Justin Jackson.

11 A dubious penalty 1 min from time gives the Dutch a lucky winning start over the Czech Rep who twice rattle the woodwork with headers. Never at their best but with the pace of Anelka and Henry a real threat, WC holders France open with a 3-0 win over Denmark. Italy's 2-1 start over Turkey in Arnhem is marred by crowd trouble and missile-throwing including a chair on the pitch after Inzaghi's 70th min controversial pen winner, awarded by Scotland's Hugh Dallas. In Nike Cup, won by the US, ROI beat S Africa with Niall Quinn's 2-1 winner equalling Frank Stapleton's record of 20 international scores.

12 England's assault on Euro 2000 suffers a severe setback when in an end to end encounter in Eindhoven they surrender a 2 goal lead and lose their opener 3-2 to a technically-superior Portugal team playing football of touch and skill. Scholes and McManaman, latching on to crosses, have England ahead in 18 min but the threat of a comeback is all too evident with Rui Costa and Luis Figo repeatedly sweeping through an overworked midfield and a back-pedalling defence. Far from impressive, champions Germany come from behind to share a 1-1 draw with Romania. Turkish FA receive £4,000 fine for bad fan behaviour against Italy. Peter Taylor, who has taken Gillingham into Div 1, becomes the new boss at Leicester agreeing a 3-year contract as successor to Martin O'Neill. Man City sign Alf Inge Haaland from Leeds for £2.5m.

13 Slovenia, 33-1 outsiders to win Group C, go 3 up against 10-man Yugoslavia who then score 3 in 8 min to grab the unlikeliest of draws with former Villa man Milosevic on as sub, netting twice. Norway, with 7 in their line-up at English clubs, snatch victory over Spain from Iversen's looping back-header. Rangers announce a £31m deal with main sponsors NTL. Ian Harte signs 5-year Leeds contract. England boss Keegan claims the abuse hurled at Beckham after the Portuguese defeat was the worst he had heard in football. Liverpool's Dumfries-born Dominic Matteo who has played at numerous levels for England is now pledging his future with Scotland.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

Manchester United's sixth FA Carling Premiership success in eight years brought with it problems for the competition as a whole and for those aspiring to emulate such triumphs.

The negative view is that United have such a wealth of playing resources that it is difficult for others to compete with them to the nth degree. A more positive point, however, is the need for aspiring challengers to improve levels of consistency, something in abundance at Old Trafford.

While United's performance did not quite match that of 1998-99 when they completed an unbeaten run of 33 matches grabbing the European Cup and the FA Cup as a treble-shooting honour in the process, it was a just reward.

With a forced winter break while the team was playing in the inaugural FIFA Club World Championship in Brazil, United were able to resume without too much of a problem. No League matches were played from 28 December when United were a point behind Leeds with a game in hand, until the 24 January when they were held to a 1-1 draw at Old Trafford by Arsenal. This left United three points behind Leeds, but with two games in hand. Arsenal on the same number of points yet having played three more matches than United.

A lesser team than United might well have been badly affected by this result against one of its main rivals, but though the early part of the game had seen Arsenal well on top, United levelled the scores late on.

Freed from the task of defending their FA Cup success and out of the Worthington Cup which had never really interested them, United had just twin sights: the League and the Champions Cup. While others were concerned with the fifth round of the FA Cup, United continued League fare and edged out Middlesbrough with a late David Beckham goal to go top on goal difference from Leeds - moreover with a precious game to the good over the Yorkshiremen.

The gap between the two teams gradually widened despite a slip when United crashed 3-0 at Newcastle early in February. As in many other instances, United's opponents failed to capitalize on such a gift. And more importantly, Manchester United won 1-0 at Leeds on 20 February, courtesy of an Andy Cole goal.

On 22 April United clinched the title with a 3-1 win at Southampton, typically bouncing back after losing to Real Madrid in the European Cup. By then their nearest challengers were Liverpool, but 13 points adrift with four matches still to be played.

United called upon the services of 29 different players. The strength of the squad system at Old Trafford being such that not one player was ever-present. Dwight Yorke with 20 goals was their leading marksman, while Cole had 19 and Ole Gunnar Solksjaer weighed in with a creditable 12 goals himself. Roy Keane took both PFA and Football Writers' accolades.

Liverpool just as Leeds had done before them had fallen away and it was Arsenal who finished runners-up some 18 points away. The Gunners' purple patch came with a run of eight successive wins. Alas this run straddled United taking the prize. Arsenal's European venture was interesting enough as it began in the European Cup and finished in the final of the UEFA Cup; such are the vageries of the modern game. Once again an English team fell foul of the penalty shoot-out.

There was much to commend in the largely youthful Leeds team, but they failed to take a point from either Manchester United or Arsenal, thus for no other reason, third place was appropriate. Liverpool's quiet start was stepped up from the middle of January, but again it came at the wrong time with the title about to fall into United's lap. But 13 unbeaten games was a creditable sequence, though it was followed by no goals from five matches.

Manchester United clinched their sixth Premiership title by beating Southampton at The Dell on 22 April. Here David Beckham (7) scores for the champions. (Colorsport)

When Chelsea convincingly beat Manchester United 5-0 on 3 October prospects in the League could not have looked brighter, but defeats against Liverpool and Arsenal in the next two games put the situation into an entirely different light. But Chelsea's cavalier approach netted them the FA Cup.

Incredibly they, too, enjoyed their best run of the season at a time when United were well on their way. Again 16 matches without defeat was a worthy effort. Aston Villa also had a better second half of the season than the first in which they had to endure nine games without a win into December.

Sunderland after three years out of the Premier League climbed to an impressive third place until a 5-0 defeat at Everton on Boxing Day noticeably knocked them out of their stride. They did have the League's top marksman in Kevin Phillips with 30 League goals.

Fifth place was the highest Leicester managed throughout, though the Worthington Cup was a merited prize and West Ham having manfully struggled in late summer to wrest the Intertoto Cup, made a useful beginning to their League programme which was not maintained. As usual they were involved in several high-scoring and entertaining matches, though a 7-1 defeat against Manchester United hit their goals against column badly.

Only once in August did Tottenham manage as many as three wins in a row, but Newcastle ended a run of seven games with just one point by thrashing Sheffield Wednesday 8-0 with Alan Shearer scoring five goals to equal the Premiership record. Bobby Robson's appointment as manager came at the right time on Tyneside.

A mid-season blip in which only one win was registered in 11 games affected Middlesbrough and 14 drawn games, nine at Goodison Park kept Everton in check.

Coventry were stuck on 14th place for the last three months of the season, though above the relegation zone so familiar to them in recent years. But six games without a win and only three goals had the alarm bells ringing at The Dell by the end of December and manager Dave Jones was relieved of his duties and Glenn Hoddle came in to steer Southampton to safety.

Victories had to be hard won by Derby and goals were often scarce to worry them in the battle to avoid going down. While the favourite trio to be relegated was Bradford, Sheffield Wednesday and Watford, the collapse of Wimbledon who managed only one point out of a possible last 30 gave an unexpected reprieve for Bradford whose revival came late after six successive defeats and shipping 18 goals in the process.

Down with the Dons went Wednesday, who had only two wins in the first 20 matches and a manager with local MPs baying for his head, until Danny Wilson was eventually relieved of his position. Watford completed the threesome, with problems in attack and defence and rock bottom from 22 January.

Football League champions from Division One were Charlton though the champagne had to be put on ice a couple of times before they wrapped it up, no victories in the last seven outings taking a little of the shine off a splendid season.

Chelsea and Liverpool had their Premier League moments too. The Merseysiders Patrik Berger challenges Chelsea goalkeeper Ed de Goey with Frank Leboeuf on hand to defend. (Colorsport)

Manchester City ended the campaign confidently, unbeaten in the last 11 matches to achieve automatic promotion with them and were joined by Ipswich via the play-offs. Their best period had come from 18 games without defeat to the end of February, taking them to second place; a sequence spoiled by five games without a win.

It was Barnsley who lost out to Ipswich at Wembley, though they had made a useful job of trying to get back to the Premier League at the first attempt and they were never out of the frame after the start of the new year.

Birmingham had been Barnsley's initial play-off victims. Their League season had been marred by some inconsistency having by 7 March promised a better run-in. Bolton timed their effort to perfection, snatching the last play-off berth after five wins in the last six outings, but they were beaten by Ipswich, having taken only one point from them in the League.

Once again Wolves just failed to make the cut. The seeds were sown early on when their second win was not forthcoming until 9 October. Huddersfield, too, slumped in the second half after heading the table on 18 December.

Eight games, no wins and the only goal from an opposing defender, virtually ended Fulham's hopes and fellow West Londoners Queens Park Rangers contrived six consecutive draws when two or three wins might have changed their fortunes.

A 2-0 win over Huddersfield on 15 January put Blackburn seventh, their highest all season and 15 draws inevitably kept Norwich City in mid-table. Tranmere had a marathon 60 League and Cup games during the season, the knock-out version clearly upsetting their League form.

Scoring goals became a problem for Nottingham Forest mid-way through the season, only six in 12 matches until a late recovery and similar problems hit Crystal Palace in February and March.

Two spells of ten and nine games chasing an elusive win said it all for Sheffield United and a healthy sixth place for Stockport was then totally ruined by 19 matches without one of their own.

Seventeen games without scoring was the cause of Portsmouth's ailment, but from mid-March improvement was noticeable in this direction. Crewe averaged just one goal a game themselves and ten games without a win plunged them into the relegation zone in February.

Grimsby slid dangerously near demotion with no wins in their last 11 outings and West Bromwich failed to average a goal a game until rescued by two wins and a draw from their last three.

The unlucky trio was composed of Walsall, Port Vale and Swindon. Walsall's best effort had been three wins in January, but from 23 November, Port Vale scrambled just two more wins and Swindon were rooted to the foot of the table from three days earlier.

Preston held on to top spot in the Second Division from mid-March their best run coming from 18 undefeated encounters to the turn of the year.

Fellow Lancastrians Burnley joined them in automatic uplift thanks to four wins in a row at the death. Gillingham who had finished third made it through the play-offs after looking a good bet from February.

Wigan lost out to Gillingham at Wembley after the best start any club could have wished - 24 unbeaten matches. But eight games passed before their next victory. Both Millwall and Stoke tripped up at this final stage.

Ipswich Town were understandably elated after their play off success which enabled them to return to the Premiership elite. (Colorsport)

Winning only one of their last four did nothing for Millwall's automatic chances and Stoke's 13 without defeat only pushed them into play-off contention, leaving them with the Auto Windscreens Shield for the mantlepiece. Alas Bristol Rovers, top as late as mid-March, recorded merely one win in the last ten.

Notts County had been top on 6 November, Bristol City as low as 19th after sharing eight goals with Notts themselves on 27 November. Reading's improvement came in March after 13 minus a win bonus from November.

Lack of scoring power was evident from Wrexham with 11 games and only four goals at one time, while Wycombe only twice managed three wins in a row. Luton's bright opening was not maintained, but Oldham pulled themselves together after just three wins in the first 14.

Bury with never more than two consecutive wins and Bournemouth with merely isolated victories, were destined to a midway existence. Yet Brentford fell like a stone from fourth place in November recording only four more wins.

Colchester had to graft diligently following just two wins in the first 15 games. East Anglian neighbours Cambridge fell to the bottom by 15 January after only two goals in six matches and academically speaking, a poor scoring record was Oxford's major weakness.

Thirteen proved an unlucky number for Cardiff. This number of games without victory led to eventual relegation along with Blackpool, Scunthorpe and Chesterfield. Seventeen drawn affairs caused Blackpool dearly while Scunthorpe were unable to score more than two goals in any game after 12 November. For Chesterfield they were never out of the bottom two from 6 November.

The strength of Swansea's Third Division title came from nine wins in a row through the turn of the year and they also recovered from a late wobble. Rotherham and Northampton accompanied them, United having held top spot for four months and Northampton with six impressive wins at the end.

Darlington, who had been fourth, missed out in the final play-off against fifth placed Peterborough. They could not complain: they had won only two of their last 12. Peterborough had even been top in November.

Barnet's fortunes were dented in January after they had been leading the pack for months, but they held on for the play-offs with Hartlepool, there or thereabouts in the New Year.

Cheltenham made a useful bid in their first season, needing to win at Southend in the last game to push into the frame. Torquay's second half of the season never matched their first and six successive games without a goal underlined Rochdale's need.

Brighton, back home again, ran in for 14 without defeat at the end, but Plymouth disappointingly drew 18 times. Macclesfield's highest was sixth in January and the absence of scoring consistency hit Hull.

Eight games without loss was Lincoln's best and though fourth in September, Southend found their level just below half-way. Mansfield went eight games without a goal to the last but one outing and Halifax registered 19 games without a goal as did Leyton Orient, next to the foot after the half-way stage.

York needed those five wins from the last ten and Exeter went 15 games with just one win. It was left to Shrewsbury, Carlisle and Chester to finally dispute the relegation spot.

Shrewsbury were sucked into it by a lack of goals, but managed a crucial 2-1 win at Exeter on the last day. Carlisle had been in the bottom three since mid-December but despite losing 1-0 at Brighton in the final game, survived on a goal difference of two, because Chester similarly lost at home to Peterborough. Chester had briefly given the glimpse of staving off relegation with four wins in six games having appeared dead and buried much earlier. Their place will be taken by Kidderminster Harriers.

INTRODUCTION TO THE CLUB SECTION

For this year's Rothmans Football Yearbook, the players again appear under the club with whom they finished the season and in an A–Z form for easy reference (see pages 414–540). The names of Trainees, Scholars and Associated Schoolboys are also included under each club's name.

The club section again comprises four pages as last year, the first two feature increased historical and record details for each club, including new entries in the 'Did you know?' series. Record transfer fees are usually left to the discretion of the club concerned.

The third and fourth pages of this section present a complete record of the League season, including date, venue, opponents, results, half-time score, League position, goalscorers, attendances and complete line-ups including substitutes where used, for every League game in the 1999–2000 season. Again goal times have been added, though not official they give an indication of when goals were scored. These appear as superior figures [10, 20, 30].

Squad numbers have not been included; those used are the familiar ones, 1–11 while the introduction of a third outfield substitute has been recognised as follows:- the first substitute No. 12, the second No. 13 and the third No. 14. However, if there is a substitute goalkeeper he is represented by No. 15 but only if he replaces the first choice goalkeeper. Otherwise he adopts one of the other three substitute numbers, as there have been several instances where a goalkeeper has been used as an outfield player because of injuries during the game. Players replaced are respectively noted with superior figures [1], [2], [3] and [g] for goalkeeper. These third and fourth pages also include consolidated lists of goalscorers for the club in League, Worthington Cup and FA Cup matches plus a summary of results in these two main domestic competitions.

The continued increase in the number of matches played on Sundays has resulted in the League positions shown after every League result being taken on that day. Full holiday programmes are also recorded, but the position after mid-week fixtures will not normally have been updated. Attendance figures quoted for the Nationwide Football League are those which appeared in the Press at the time. But those in the FA Carling Premiership are official. The attendance statistics published on pages 567–569 are those officially issued by the FA Premier League but not the Football League at the end of the season.

In the totals at the top of each column on page 4, substitute appearances are listed separately by the '+', but have been amalgamated in the totals which feature in the players historical section in the directory mentioned above. Thus these appearances include those as substitute. In fact the directory again features those names appearing on the FA Premier League and Football League's Retained list, which is published at the end of May. Each player's height and weight where known, plus birth place, birth date and source together with total League goals and appearances for each club he has represented, can be found as in previous editions. The player's details remain under the club which retained him at the end of the season. An asterisk '*' by a player's name indicates that he was given a free transfer at the end of the 1999–2000 season, a dagger '†' against a name means that he is a non-contract player, a double dagger '‡' indicates that the player's registration was cancelled during the season and a section mark '§' shows the player to be a trainee or associated schoolboy who has made League appearances. The symbol # indicates players aged 24 and over who are out of contract but who were offered re-engagement by their clubs. Appearances by players in the play-offs are not included in their career totals.

FA Premiership — ARSENAL

FOUNDATION

Formed by workers at the Royal Arsenal, Woolwich in 1886, they began as Dial Square (name of one of the workshops), and included two former Nottingham Forest players, Fred Beardsley and Morris Bates. Beardsley wrote to his old club seeking help and they provided the new club with a full set of red jerseys and a ball. The club became known as the 'Woolwich Reds' although their official title soon after formation was Woolwich Arsenal.

FA Premiership — ASTON VILLA

FOUNDATION

Cricketing enthusiasts of Villa Cross Wesleyan Chapel, Aston, Birmingham decided to form a football club during the winter of 1874–75. Football clubs were few and far between in the Birmingham area and in their first game against Aston Brook St Mary's Rugby team they played one half rugby and the other soccer. In 1876 they were joined by a Scottish soccer enthusiast George Ramsay who was immediately appointed captain and went on to lead Aston Villa from obscurity to one of the country's top clubs in a period of less than 10 years.

FOUNDATION

Barnet Football Club was formed in 1888 as an amateur organisation and they played at a ground in Queen's Road until they disbanded in 1901. They moved to their present ground a year later, combining with The Avenue to form Barnet and Alston in 1912. The club progressed to senior amateur football by way of the Athenian and Isthmian Leagues, turning professional in 1965. It was as a Southern League and Conference club that they made their name.

The leading light was John Lewis, later to become a founder of the Lancashire FA, a famous referee who was in charge of two FA Cup Finals, and a vice-president of both the FA and the Football League.

Division 2 — AFC BOURNEMOUTH

FOUNDATION

There was a Bournemouth FC as early as 1875, but the present club arose out of the remnants of the Boscombe St John's club (formed 1890). The meeting at which Boscombe FC came into being was held at a house in Gladstone Road in 1899. They began by playing in the Boscombe and District Junior League.

FA Premiership — BRADFORD CITY

FOUNDATION

Bradford was a rugby stronghold around the turn of the century but after Manningham RFC held an archery contest to help them out of financial difficulties in 1903, they were persuaded to give up the handling code and turn to soccer. So they formed Bradford City and continued at Valley Parade. Recognising this as an opportunity of spreading the dribbling code in this part of Yorkshire, the Football League immediately accepted the new club's first application for membership of the Second Division.

Division 3 BRIGHTON & HOVE ALBION

FOUNDATION

A professional club Brighton United was formed in November 1897 at the Imperial Hotel, Queen's Road, but folded in March 1900 after less than two seasons in the Southern League at the County Ground. An amateur team, Brighton & Hove Rangers was then formed by some prominent United supporters and after one season at Withdean, decided to turn semi-professional and play at the County Ground. Rangers were accepted into the Southern League but then also folded June 1901. John Jackson the former United manager organised a meeting at the Seven Stars public house, Ship Street on 24 June 1901 at which a new third club Brighton & Hove United was formed. They took over Rangers' place in the Southern League and pitch at County Ground. The name was changed to Brighton & Hove Albion before a match was played because of objections by Hove FC.

Division 2 — BRISTOL CITY

FOUNDATION

The name Bristol City came into being in 1897 when the Bristol South End club, formed three years earlier, decided to adopt professionalism and apply for admission to the Southern League after competing in the Western League. The historic meeting was held at The Albert Hall, Bedminster. Bristol City employed Sam Hollis from Woolwich Arsenal as manager and gave him £40 to buy players. In 1901 they merged with Bedminster, another leading Bristol club.

Division 2 BRISTOL ROVERS

FOUNDATION

Bristol Rovers were formed at a meeting in Stapleton Road, Eastville, in 1883. However, they first went under the name of the Black Arabs (wearing black shirts). Changing their name to Eastville Rovers in their second season, they won the Gloucestershire Senior Cup in 1888–89. Original members of the Bristol & District League in 1892, this eventually became the Western League and Eastville Rovers adopted professionalism in 1897.

FOUNDATION

The club was formed on 9 June 1905, by a group of 14 and 15-year-old youths living in streets by the Thames in the area which now borders the Thames Barrier. The club's progress through local leagues was so rapid that after the First World War they joined the Kent League where they spent a season before turning professional and joining the Southern League in 1920. A year later they were elected to the Football League's Division 3 (South).

FA Premiership — CHELSEA

FOUNDATION

Chelsea may never have existed but for the fact that Fulham rejected an offer to rent the Stamford Bridge ground from Mr H. A. Mears who had owned it since 1904. Fortunately he was determined to develop it as a football stadium rather than sell it to the Great Western Railway and got together with Frederick Parker, who persuaded Mears of the financial advantages of developing a major sporting venue. Chelsea FC was formed in 1905, and when admission to the Southern League was denied, they immediately gained admission to the Second Division of the Football League.

Division 3 — CHELTENHAM TOWN

FOUNDATION

Although a scratch team representing Cheltenham played a match against Gloucester in 1884, the earliest recorded match for Cheltenham Town FC was a friendly against Dean Close School on 12 March 1892. The School won 4–3 and the match was played at Prestbury (half a mile from Whaddon Road). Cheltenham Town played Wednesday afternoon friendlies at a local cricket ground until entering the Mid Gloucester League. In those days the club played in deep red coloured shirts and were nicknamed 'the Rubies'. The club moved to Whaddon Lane for season 1901–02 and changed to red and white colours two years later.

Conference CHESTER CITY

FOUNDATION

All students of soccer history have read about the medieval games of football in Chester, but the present club was not formed until 1884 through the amalgamation of King's School Old Boys with Chester Rovers. For many years Chester were overshadowed in Cheshire by Northwich Victoria and Crewe Alexandra who had both won the Senior Cup several times before Chester's first success in 1894–95. The final against Macclesfield saw Chester face the team that had not only beaten them in the previous year's final, but also knocked them out of the FA Cup two seasons in succession. The final was held at the Drill Field, Northwich and Chester had the support of more than 1000 fans. Chester won 2-1.

Division 3 — CHESTERFIELD

FOUNDATION

Chesterfield are fourth only to Stoke, Notts County and Nottingham Forest in age for they can trace their existence as far back as 1866, although it is fair to say that they were somewhat casual in the first few years of their history playing only a few friendlies a year. However, their rules of 1871 are still in existence showing an annual membership of 2s (10p), but it was not until 1891 that they won a trophy (the Barnes Cup) and followed this a year later by winning the Sheffield Cup, Barnes Cup and the Derbyshire Junior Cup.

FOUNDATION

Workers at Singers' cycle factory formed a club in 1883. The first success of Singers' FC was to win the Birmingham Junior Cup in 1891 and this led in 1894 to their election to the Birmingham and District League. Four years later they changed their name to Coventry City and joined the Southern League in 1908 at which time they were playing in blue and white quarters.

Division 1 — CRYSTAL PALACE

FOUNDATION

There was a Crystal Palace club as early as 1861 but the present organisation was born in 1905 after the formation of a club by the company that controlled the Crystal Palace (building), had been rejected by the FA who did not like the idea of the Cup Final hosts running their own club. A separate company had to be formed and they had their home on the old Cup Final ground until 1915.

Division 3 — DARLINGTON

FOUNDATION

A football club was formed in Darlington as early as 1861 but the present club began in 1883 and reached the final of the Durham Senior Cup in their first season, losing to Sunderland in a replay after complaining that they had suffered from intimidation in the first. On 5 April 1884, Sunderland had defeated Darlington 4-3. Darlington's objection was upheld by the referee and the replay took place on 3 May. The new referee for the match was Major Marindin, appointed by the Football Association to ensure fair play. Sunderland won 2-0. The following season Darlington won this trophy and for many years were one of the leading amateur clubs in their area.

Division 3 — HALIFAX TOWN

FOUNDATION

The real pioneer behind the setting up of the club was Mr A. E. Jones, who, using the nom de plume 'Old Sport', wrote to the Halifax Evening Courier. His letter suggesting a club be set up and inviting public opinion was published on 20 April 1911. A public meeting was held at the Saddle Hotel on 23 May 1911, whereafter Dr A. H. Muir became the club's first president and Joe McClelland its first secretary. Mr Jones proposed the following: "That this meeting of townsmen of Halifax heartily approves of the establishment of a town's Association football club on the basis of scheme 1 (the formation of a limited company) and pledges itself to adopt every legitimate means to that end". Mr Charles Deantry seconded the motion and the resolution was carried unanimously. The chairman asked for a show of hands of those willing to become guarantors of £1. There was an immediate response from 46 of the assembly.

Division 1 HUDDERSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

A meeting, attended largely by members of the Huddersfield & District FA, was held at the Imperial Hotel in 1906 to discuss the feasibility of establishing a football club in this rugby stronghold. However, it was not until a man with both the enthusiasm and the money to back the scheme came on the scene, that real progress was made. This benefactor was Mr Hilton Crowther and it was at a meeting at the Albert Hotel in 1908, that the club formally came into existence with a capital of £2,000 and joined the North-Eastern League.

Division 3 — HULL CITY

FOUNDATION

The enthusiasts who formed Hull City in 1904 were brave men indeed. More than that they were audacious for they immediately put the club on the map in this Rugby League fortress by obtaining a three-year agreement with the Hull Rugby League club to rent their ground! They had obtained quite a number of conversions to the dribbling code, before the Rugby League forbade the use of any of their club grounds by Association Football clubs. By that time, Hull City were well away having entered the FA Cup in their initial season and the Football League. Second Division after only a year.

FA Premiership — IPSWICH TOWN

FOUNDATION

Considering that Ipswich Town only reached the Football League in 1938, many people outside of East Anglia may be surprised to learn that this club was formed at a meeting held in the Town Hall as far back as 1878 when Mr T. C. Cobbold, MP, was voted president. Originally it was the Ipswich Association FC to distinguish it from the older Ipswich Football Club which played rugby. These two amalgamated in 1888 and the handling game was dropped in 1893.

FA Premiership — LEEDS UNITED

FOUNDATION

Immediately the Leeds City club (founded in 1904) was wound up by the FA in October 1919, following allegations of illegal payments to players, a meeting was called by a Leeds solicitor, Mr Alf Masser, at which Leeds United was formed. They joined the Midland League playing their first game in that competition in November 1919. It was in this same month that the new club had discussions with the directors of a virtually bankrupt Huddersfield Town who wanted to move to Leeds in an amalgamation. But Huddersfield survived even that crisis.

Division 3 LEYTON ORIENT

FOUNDATION

There is some doubt about the foundation of Leyton Orient, and, indeed, some confusion with clubs like Leyton and Clapton over their early history. As regards the foundation, the most favoured version is that Leyton Orient was formed originally by members of Homerton Theological College who established Glyn Cricket Club in 1881 and then carried on through the following winter playing football. Eventually many employees of the Orient Shipping Line became involved and so the name Orient was chosen in 1888.

FA Premiership — LIVERPOOL

FOUNDATION

But for a dispute between Everton FC and their landlord at Anfield in 1892, there may never have been a Liverpool club. This dispute persuaded the majority of Evertonians to quit Anfield for Goodison Park, leaving the landlord, Mr. John Houlding, to form a new club. He originally tried to retain the name 'Everton' but when this failed, he founded Liverpool Association FC on 15 March 1892.

Division 2 — LUTON TOWN

FOUNDATION

Formed by an amalgamation of two leading local clubs, Wanderers and Excelsior a works team, at a meeting in Luton Town Hall in April 1885. The Wanderers had three months earlier changed their name to Luton Town Wanderers and did not take too kindly to the formation of another Town club but were talked around at this meeting. Wanderers had already appeared in the FA Cup and the new club entered in its inaugural season.

FOUNDATION

Manchester City was formed as a Limited Company in 1894 after their predecessors Ardwick had been forced into bankruptcy. However, many historians like to trace the club's lineage as far back as 1880 when St Mark's Church, West Gorton added a football section to their cricket club. They amalgamated with Gorton Athletic in 1884 as Gorton FC. Because of a change of ground they became Ardwick in 1887.

FA Premiership MANCHESTER UNITED

FOUNDATION

Manchester United was formed as comparatively recently as 1902 after their predecessors, Newton Heath, went bankrupt. However, it is usual to give the date of the club's foundation as 1878 when the dining room committee of the carriage and waggon works of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company formed Newton Heath L and YR Cricket and Football Club. They won the Manchester Cup in 1886 and as Newton Heath FC were admitted to the Second Division in 1892.

Division 3 — MANSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

The club was formed as Mansfield Wesleyans in 1897, and changed their name to Mansfield Wesley in 1906 and Mansfield Town in 1910. This was after the Mansfield Wesleyan Chapel trustees had requested that the club change its name as 'it has no longer had any connection with either the chapel or school'. The new club participated in the Notts and Derby District League, but in the following season 1911–12 joined the Central Alliance.

FOUNDATION

It stemmed from a newly formed club called Stanley in 1881. In October 1882 they changed their name to Newcastle East End to avoid confusion with two other local clubs, Stanley Nops and Stanley Albion. Shortly afterwards another club Rosewood merged with them. Newcastle West End had been formed in August 1882 and they played on a pitch which was part of the Town Moor. Moved to Brandling Park 1885 and St James' Park 1886 (home of Newcastle Rangers). West End went out of existence after a bad run and the remaining committee men invited East End to move to St James' Park. They accepted and, at a meeting in Bath Lane Hall in 1892, changed their name to Newcastle United.

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1902, largely through the initiative of two local schoolmasters who called a meeting at the Criterion Cafe, they were shocked by an FA Commission which in 1904 declared the club professional and ejected them from the FA Amateur Cup. However, this only served to strengthen their determination. New officials were appointed and a professional club established at a meeting in the Agricultural Hall in March 1905.

Division 1 — NOTTINGHAM FOREST

FOUNDATION

One of the oldest football clubs in the world, Nottingham Forest was formed at a meeting in the Clinton Arms in 1865. Known originally as the Forest Football Club, the game which first drew the founders together was 'shinney', a form of hockey. When they determined to change to football in 1865, one of their first moves was to buy a set of red caps to wear on the field.

Division 2 PETERBOROUGH UNITED

FOUNDATION

The old Peterborough & Fletton club, founded in 1923, was suspended by the FA during season 1932–33 and disbanded. Local enthusiasts determined to carry on and in 1934 a new professional club Peterborough United was formed and entered the Midland League the following year. Peterborough's first success came in 1939–40, but from 1955–56 to 1959–60 they won five successive titles. During the 1958–59 season they were undefeated in the Midland League. They reached the third round of the FA Cup, won the Northamptonshire Senior Cup, the Maunsell Cup and were runners-up in the East Anglian Cup.

Division 3 PLYMOUTH ARGYLE

FOUNDATION

The club was formed in September 1886 as the Argyle Football Club by former public and private school pupils who wanted to continue playing the game. The meeting was held in a room above the Borough Arms (a Coffee House), Bedford Street, Plymouth. It was common then to choose a local street/terrace as a club name and Argyle or Argyll was a fashionable name throughout the land due to Queen Victoria's great interest in Scotland.

Division 1 PRESTON NORTH END

FOUNDATION

North End Cricket and Rugby Club which was formed in 1863, indulged in most sports before taking up soccer in about 1879. In 1881 they decided to stick to football to the exclusion of other sports and even a 16–0 drubbing by Blackburn Rovers in an invitation game at Deepdale, a few weeks after taking this decision, did not deter them for they immediately became affiliated to the Lancashire FA.

Division 1 QUEENS PARK RANGERS

FOUNDATION

There is an element of doubt about the date of the foundation of this club, but it is believed that in either 1885 or 1886 it was formed through the amalgamation of Christchurch Rangers and St Jude's Institute FC. The leading light was George Wodehouse, whose family maintained a connection with the club until comparatively recent times. Most of the players came from the Queen's Park district so this name was adopted after a year as St Jude's Institute.

Division 3 — ROCHDALE

FOUNDATION

Considering the love of rugby in their area, it is not surprising that Rochdale had difficulty in establishing an Association Football club. The earlier Rochdale Town club formed in 1900 went out of existence in 1907 when the present club was immediately established and joined the Manchester League, before graduating to the Lancashire Combination in 1908.

Division 3 SCUNTHORPE UNITED

FOUNDATION

The year of foundation for Scunthorpe United has often been quoted as 1910, but the club can trace its history back to 1899 when Brumby Hall FC, who played on the Old Showground, consolidated their position by amalgamating with some other clubs and changing their name to Scunthorpe United. The year 1910 was when that club amalgamated with North Lindsey United as Scunthorpe and Lindsey United. The link is Mr W. T. Lockwood whose chairmanship covers both years.

FOUNDATION

In March 1889, Yorkshire County Cricket Club formed Sheffield United six days after an FA Cup semi-final between Preston North End and West Bromwich Albion had finally convinced Charles Stokes, a member of the cricket club, that the formation of a professional football club would prove successful at Bramall Lane. The United's first secretary, Mr J. B. Wostinholm was also secretary of the cricket club.

Division 3 — SHREWSBURY TOWN

FOUNDATION

Shrewsbury School having provided a number of the early England and Wales international players it is not surprising that there was a Town club as early as 1876 which won the Birmingham Senior Cup in 1879. However, the present Shrewsbury Town club was formed in 1886 and won the Welsh FA Cup as early as 1891.

STOKE CITY

FOUNDATION

The date of the formation of this club has long been in doubt. The year 1863 was claimed, but more recent research by Wade Martin has uncovered nothing earlier than 1868, when a couple of Old Carthusians, who were apprentices at the local works of the old North Staffordshire Railway Company, met with some others from that works, to form Stoke Ramblers. It should also be noted that the old Stoke club went bankrupt in 1908 when a new club was formed.

FA Premiership — SUNDERLAND

FOUNDATION

A Scottish schoolmaster named James Allan, working at Hendon Board School, took the initiative in the foundation of Sunderland in 1879 when they were formed as The Sunderland and District Teachers' Association FC at a meeting in the Adults School, Norfolk Street. Due to financial difficulties, they quickly allowed members from outside the teaching profession and so became Sunderland AFC in October 1880.

Division 2 — SWANSEA CITY

FOUNDATION

The earliest Association Football in Wales was played in the Northern part of the country and no international took place in the South until 1894, when a local paper still thought it necessary to publish an outline of the rules and an illustration of the pitch markings. There had been an earlier Swansea club, but this has no connection with Swansea Town (now City) formed at a public meeting in June 1912.

Division 2 — SWINDON TOWN

FOUNDATION

It is generally accepted that Swindon Town came into being in 1881, although there is no firm evidence that the club's founder, Rev. William Pitt, captain of the Spartans (an offshoot of a cricket club) changed his club's name to Swindon Town before 1883, when the Spartans amalgamated with St Mark's Young Men's Friendly Society.

Division 3 — TORQUAY UNITED

FOUNDATION

The idea of establishing a Torquay club was agreed by old boys of Torquay College and Torbay College, while sitting in Princess Gardens listening to the band. A proper meeting was subsequently held at Tor Abbey Hotel at which officers were elected. This was on 1 May 1899 and the club's first competition was the Eastern League (later known as the East Devon League). As an amateur club it played at Teignmouth Road, Torquay Recreation Ground and Cricket Field Road before settling down for four years at Torquay Cricket Ground where the rugby club now plays. They became Torquay United in 1921 after merging with Babbacombe FC.

FOUNDATION

The Hotspur Football Club was formed from an older cricket club in 1882. Most of the founders were old boys of St John's Presbyterian School and Tottenham Grammar School. The Casey brothers were well to the fore as the family provided the club's first goalposts (painted blue and white) and their first ball. They soon adopted the local YMCA as their meeting place, but after a couple of moves settled at the Red House, which is still their headquarters, although now known simply as 748 High Road.

Division 1 — TRANMERE ROVERS

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1884 as Belmont they adopted their present title the following year and eventually joined their first league, the West Lancashire League in 1889–90, the same year as their first success in the Wirral Challenge Cup. The club almost folded in 1899–1900 when all the players left en bloc to join a rival club, but they survived the crisis and went from strength to strength winning the 'Combination' title in 1907–08 and the Lancashire Combination in 1913–14. They joined the Football League in 1921 from the Central League.

FA Premiership — WEST HAM UNITED

FOUNDATION

Thames Ironworks FC was formed by employees of this shipbuilding yard in 1895 and entered the FA Cup in their initial season at Chatham and the London League in their second. Short of funds, the club was wound up in June 1900 and relaunched a month later as West Ham United. Connection with the Ironworks was not finally broken until four years later.

WREXHAM

FOUNDATION

The club was formed on 28 September 1872 by members of Wrexham Cricket Club, so they could continue playing a sport during the winter months. This meeting was held at the Turf Hotel, which although rebuilt since, still stands at one corner of the present ground. Their first game was a few weeks later and matches often included 17 players on either side! By 1875 team formations were reduced to 11 men and a year later the club was among the founder members of the Cambrian Football Association, which quickly changed its title to the Football Association of Wales.

Division 2 WYCOMBE WANDERERS

FOUNDATION

In 1887 a group of young furniture trade workers called a meeting at the Steam Engine public house with the aim of forming a football club and entering junior football. It is thought that they were named after the famous FA Cup winners, The Wanderers who had visited the town in 1877 for a tie with the original High Wycombe club. It is also possible that they played informally before their formation, although there is no proof of this.

YORK CITY

FOUNDATION

Although there was a York City club formed in 1903 by a soccer enthusiast from Darlington, this has no connection with the modern club because it went out of existence during World War I. Unlike many others of that period who restarted in 1919, York City did not re-form until 1922 and the tendency now is to ignore the modern club's pre-1922 existence.

THE THINGS THEY SAID . . .

George Best's tongue-in-cheek reference to David Beckham:

Mark Lawrenson on his days as a Liverpool defender:
"I'm going to sue Alan Hansen as he used to make me head all the balls. If I get Alzheimer's in 10 years, I'm going to take civil action against him!"

Arsene Wenger after the shoot-out failure which cost the UEFA Cup:
"We practise penalties and it was frustrating that the two we missed hit the post and bar."

John Gregory on the changing faces in his Villa squad:
"I looked at my subs bench sometimes and there were just babies sitting there. Most of the people outside of Birmingham wouldn't know their names – and some in Birmingham for that matter."

Leicester's Tony Cottee recalling his wish 17 years earlier when he began at West Ham:
"I can remember back in 1983 looking at 2000 and thinking it would be lovely to be playing then – but I never believed it would happen."

Wimbledon manager Egil Olsen explaining Ben Thatcher's elbow assault on Sunderland's Nicky Summerbee:
"He was running with his arms out and it's impossible to put them down and that was the contact."

Graham Taylor refusing to spend millions at Watford amd still be relegated:
"You can spend £2m and find the player cannot trap the ball."

Paul Bracewell after Fulham's wobbly festive period:
"All I've picked up over Christmas is a few more grey hairs."

Burnley's journeyman pro Ronnie Jepson on coaching opportunities:
"It's a question of getting on the roundabout of who you know and I won't kiss anyone's arse to get there."

Martin O'Neill on Leicester's demanding programme:
"Players keep looking at the wall diary in my office and at the black dot that's there for a week in February – international week and a rest for some of them."

Max Clifford, Fulham's new PR on his relationship with chairman Mohamed Al Fayed:
"My job will be to try to make sure he scores more goals than own goals."

US based Sasa Curcic who would make a comeback if a club waived payment and instead offered 15 women:
"I can't achieve an orgasm looking at a team mate, but it would be a totally different matter with Cindy Crawford."

Provost Bill Smith hoisting a flag at the Town House following the sensational cup defeat of Celtic:
"The team have not only put Inverness on the football map, but on the tourist, industrial and commercial maps as well."

Graham Rix praising the dressing-room calming effect of Chelsea's Vialli:
"If you get angry all the time people don't take notice. If you're cool, calm and collected and then suddenly throw one (a tea cup) it has greater effect."

Sheffield Wednesday striker Gilles de Bilde shooting from the hip:
"English players love to compensate their lack of ideas with three important qualities; they are powerful, run for everything and fight for every centimetre."

Derby's Jim Smith on the magic of Kinkladze:
"Georgi does things you will never see any other player do better, but if I'm honest he can be a bit of a luxury."

Harry Redknapp about Di Canio's display in a 5-4 win:
"What a footballer, the man is a genius."

David O'Leary on an ugly brawl:
"It's not my fault if Tottenham players can't stand on their feet. Bowyer's tackle was fair, unfortunately he didn't get the ball."

Bobby Robson before leading Newcastle out in FA Cup semi-final:
"Wembley is a cathedral and it is for unique matches."

Roy Keane on the hounding of the official when 'Boro got a penalty:
"What happened was unfortunate … although if he (ref Andy D'Urso) had stood still I don't think we would have been chasing him, but he kept running and we kept chasing."

Jimmy Armfield's tribute to Sir Stanley Matthews:
"He was the first great superstar. With only newspapers and radio and TV just starting, everybody knew Stanley Matthews."

Ex-Swansea player, now Qatar coach Dzemal Hadziabdic:
"If I was Mark Hughes and my best players didn't turn up, they wouldn't play again."

Graeme Souness on inevitable selection mistakes and purchasing errors:
"You're trapped inside a coconut shy. Every time you duck, someone else is ready to let fly at you."

Sami Hyypia, a school kid fan and now Anfield's Finnish skipper:
"When I bring friends over for a visit, I take them to the museum at the club. The winning tradition at Liverpool is clear."

Cowdenbeath's Craig Levein taking exception to East Fife's physical approach:
"I don't think six ice packs were enough for our dressing room."

Ray Parlour, feeling sorry for newcomer Oleg Luzhny:
"I would hate to be stuck in the middle of Ukraine without being able to speak the language."

Under-fire Peter Reid after Sunderland's failure to win in 13 matches:
"Three hundred fans would probably have 300 different opinions, so I'd have to sign 300 players to satisfy them."

Gareth Southgate ending his link with high profile management company:
"Although I've done that Pizza Hut advert I've turned down lots of others offering to go down the missed-penalty route."

Ian St John remembering Shankly's do's and don'ts:
"At first he told us to wear boxing gloves in bed on Friday nights, then later he would tell us to send the wife to her mother."

Bryan Robson's warning to players thinking of opting out at 'Boro's £10m training complex:
"We have a one-sided window looking over the players' gym from our physio room. It means we can keep an eye on them – and they don't know if we are there or not."

Tim Flowers cannot see another club following small-town Blackburn buying a team to beat Manchester United:
"They (star players) only want to go to two places, London or Manchester United."

Sheffield Wednesday's Pavel Srnicek on the tensions that a relegation battle brings:
"You have to be diplomatic, but sometimes in training we kick each other because we don't like our teammates."

Everton's Kevin Campbell explains about his boss Walter Smith:
"He can be as quiet as a mouse or he can go absolutely ballistic."

Former crowd-pleaser Frank Worthington on why he made so few England appearances:
"Down to one man, Don Revie. He preferred the workhorse type of player."

Kevin Keegan casting a glance at the 8 to 1 odds offered by bookies William Hill:
"I reckon we are worth a bet for Euro 2000 along with nations like France and Holland."

The great Eusebio, obviously not unduly worried when England went two up:
"Portugal controlled the game even when they were losing."

TV pundit Ron Atkinson seeing extrovert goalkeeper Barthez hoisting a trade-mark left-footed clearance high into the crowd:
"He might be the first player to kick the ball out of Old Trafford."

Leicester's two-goal Wembley hero Matt Elliott who kept in touch with heavily-pregnant wife Cathy by signalling to her throughout the game:
"I did have a real panic at one point because I lost track of her for 10 minutes."

Marcel Desailly on adjusting to Premiership life after five years in Serie A:
"When you go to Derby four days after playing in Milan, you still have a picture of the San Siro in your head and it can be a shock."

Bobby Robson, reflection on lifting morale at Newcastle:
"Under Gullit the best players were on the bench … we have to face the fact he did nothing for this club."

David Beckham telling OK! magazine about the irritating distractions eating-out celebrities encounter:
"In the Ivy they don't let anyone ask for autographs. I know this because Michael Jordan was in there one night and I wasn't able to get his signature."

Glenn Hoddle on England's 1-0 success over Germany:
"It wasn't brilliant football, but it was effective."

Honest Keegan as England headed home after Romania's dramatic late win:
"They outplayed and outpassed us, and probably deserved the result."

Alan Shearer bowing out with a booking for a blatant dive:
"That was in desperation. I was wanting to do something for my country."

Ex-Chelsea and England striker Peter Osgood, not surprised by the Euro exit of Keegan's team:
"Outplayed by Portugal, outplayed by Romania, and we only beat the Germans because they are a worse team than we are."

Martin Keown's blunt summing-up of England's campaign:
"We were inept tactically and exposed against teams we could have beaten."

Headline on the front of sports daily 'Marca' after Spain's 4-3 victory over Yugoslavia:
"Long live the mother who gave birth to you."

Belgium's coach Robert Waseige showing he hadn't forgotten the finer points of coaching:
"We have to improve in two key areas: defence and attack."

Soccer fan Scott Vessey who believes Phil Neville's concession of a last minute penalty against Romania merited the same punishment handed down to hooligans:
"Phil Neville should have his passport confiscated and not be allowed to leave the country."

Portugal's Paulo Sousa delivers the damming verdict on England at Euro 2000:
"I was even laughing on the bench when I saw their defenders heading back to towards their own penalty area rather than trying to tackle Figo or Rui Costa."

TV pundit Dion Dublin after the Spain v Yugoslavia game from which Hierro was absent:
"Hierro has been magnificent for the Spaniards tonight."

Arsenal's Liam Brady believing there is no mystery to England's current lack of technique and talent:
"I would say that 85 percent of the teams we play at youth level kick the ball long and by-pass midfield. They play for territory."

Celtic's Kenny Dalglish overlooking the small matter of losing the League by 21 points:
"I've been sacked and I don't know why."

THE SCOTTISH SEASON 1999–2000

There were some 'very nearly' occasions this season; but not quite, alas!

Scotland very nearly reached the European finals.

Rangers very nearly reached the last stages of the Champions' League.

The Premier League was very nearly a one-horse race, and it must be hoped that Celtic, after all their various troubles, can, given sufficient time by their fans, again provide the kind of opposition which is needed, and can again aspire to a high rank in Europe. Is it too much to hope that some of the other teams might be able to make a sustained challenge for the top places?

With Rangers fast disappearing out of sight in the new year, interest was in who would finish in third place, with a European entry assured. Dundee United were the early runners, but after Billy Dodds moved to Rangers, United went rapidly down hill, and finished near the foot of the table. It was left to Hearts and Motherwell to chase the elusive place: Hearts, with several games left, looked to be sure of success, but they huffed and puffed, and Motherwell kept going. It all went to the last day when Hearts at last achieved the necessary point; but even then Motherwell beat Rangers, so there was not much to spare. This was only the second league defeat for Rangers – the other being by Dundee at Ibrox, a high point for the Tayside team in an otherwise undistinguished season where their main object was to maintain their place in the SPL. They did this with some ease, but their manager was out of a job at the end of it; it is good to see that the capable Jocky Scott has not stayed in the wilderness for long. Early on all relegation worries were removed from the large majority of teams by Aberdeen's appalling start. It was hard to understand and, although subsequently they reached two cup finals, their league performances showed only brief signs of improvement. For most of the season they were well anchored at the foot of the table; Kilmarnock were often within sight – they, too, could never recapture the form of the previous season - but they did enough to avoid the fate of relegation. So, as it happened, did the Dons. There was provision for a play-off between the bottom placed team in the SPL and the teams placed second and third in the First Division, with two of the three to move into next season's SPL. Unfortunately for Falkirk, who were third, their ground did not meet the SPL's requirements.

The new format in the Premier League is now as promised when the SPL began. It is hard to see how a twelve team group can function successfully, and further changes in due course look likely. However there is sure to be a good deal of exciting manoeuvring before the split, for the last part of the coming season, into a top group seeking honours and a lower group not wanting to be relegated.

If the SPL was predictable, the same was not true in the SFL.

There are many clubs which are suffering from extremely tight finance. Clydebank have managed to keep going somehow, but they could not cope with the First Division, and their points tally for the season only just reached double figures. In the normal season Airdrie would have been in serious trouble with relegation worries; on this occasion, only one team was to go down, so that Airdrie's problems did not include fighting against the drop. Of the teams new to the division, Inverness Caledonian Thistle made a very poor start, but once they found their feet they advanced into a mid-table position, not threatened from below nor pushing the clubs above. Livingston did better, but they could not quite maintain a challenge for the top places. Raith Rovers, too, failed to keep in the top trio. St Mirren really had a stunning run, and were well worth their position as First Division champions, Dunfermline were comfortable as runners-up, and the third place was taken by Falkirk.

The top end of the Second Division resolved itself during the last part of the season into a three-horse race. Clyde, Alloa Athletic and Ross County took the places with some ease, and in a group well ahead of the rest. The next six were not far apart: Arbroath went well for a time, but could not keep it up, whilst Partick Thistle had a poor start, followed by a fine spell when they rushed up the table; there then came another indifferent period, and they finished in a disappointing fifth place. This is a team which must be looking to go up again soon. Queen of the South were stranded at the foot of the table, but they were reprieved when Hamilton were heavily penalised following their inability to fulfil a fixture.

In the Third Division, Queen's Park set off in great style, and went into a convincing lead. Their supporters kept their fingers crossed. When the almost inevitable fall from grace occurred, there was a bit of 'I-told-you-so'-ing, but the Spiders gritted their teeth, regained composure, and finished in high form at the top. Berwick worked their way up from a modest start, even took over briefly in first place, and finished soundly as runners-up. The fight for the vital third position was eventually to be settled only on the last day of the season when Forfar managed a rather indifferent win whilst East Fife were soundly beaten in front of a large crowd in Dumbarton's last game at Boghead. Perhaps the Fifers were unlucky to have to play a vital game on such an emotional occasion, but competent judges felt that the three best teams in this division gained promotion.

The changes in the SPL have meant that two new clubs join the SFL. Various teams hoped to join, and a small committee examined the credentials of the contenders, and finally selected Elgin City and Peterhead: here are two formidable Highland League members who may soon be pushing their claims for further advancement, as the last two from this league have done. Good luck to them.

The cups always provide shocks. From the start of this season the lesser were sometimes overcoming the greater.

The Bell's League Challenge came to its conclusion at Brockville with Alloa Athletic and Inverness Caledonian Thistle finishing, after extra time, with the score at 4-4. Penalties followed, and for Alloa, a Second Division team, victory. In the CIS Cup (the League Cup), East Fife had a good run against teams in divisions above them, and Alloa again proved a handful. In the end Celtic won a rather dull final against Aberdeen at Hampden. It was in the Scottish Cup that the biggest shock came when, at the first hurdle, Celtic lost comprehensively to Inverness. This, too, in front of their home crowd. In the subsequent uproar, the fact that Inverness were a good First Division team was somewhat forgotten, and heads rolled at Parkhead. Arbroath gave Motherwell some trouble, and Alloa were again in the picture, overcoming Kilmarnock, and only losing to Dundee United in a replay. Terry Christie had an outstanding season: in addition to all these cup successes, he led Alloa to promotion. In the later stages, battling Ayr United reached the semi-finals having disposed of Dundee and Motherwell on the way. The Scottish Cup Final was really over in a few minutes at the start: in a most unfortunate accident, Jim Leighton, who has made such a contribution both at international and club level, was seriously injured, and there was no substitute goalkeeper on the bench. Hard though the Dons tried, they could not stem the Rangers tide, and goals around half time settled the issue.

In the European matches, Rangers made headway, and had some good results; they reached the first 'league' pools, and narrowly missed reaching the second. They were clearly in a better position than last season, but still have a way to go if they are to reach the heights demanded by their astute manager. Celtic, Kilmarnock and St Johnstone made modest progress in the UEFA Cup.

At the international level there are the usual encouraging signs, with some good results, but without real progress where it matters. Both the senior team and the Under-21s had their days, and Craig Brown and his back room assistants did wonders with scant material. The training and encouraging of the young – of both sexes – is rightly a priority with the SFA, and much is being done. This has been a year of development in Scottish Women's football, and the A team is currently doing well in the UEFA Women's Championship.

Let us hope that our fans – always looking forward to the day when success is again ours – may continue to be welcome wherever and whenever they go abroad.

Season 1921–22 – only 1 club promoted, 3 clubs relegated. 15pts deducted for failing to field a team.

Scottish League championship wins: Rangers 49, Celtic 36, Aberdeen 4, Hearts 4, Hibernian 4, Dumbarton 2, Dundee 2, Dundee U 1, Kilmarnock 1, Motherwell 1, Third Lanark 1.

At the end of the 1993–94 season four divisions were created assisted by the admission of two new clubs Ross County and Caledonian Thistle. Only one club was promoted from Division 1 and Division 2. The three relegated from the Premier joined with teams finishing second to seventh in Division 1 to form the new Division 1. Five relegated from Division 1 combined with those who finished second to sixth to form a new Division 2 and the bottom eight in Division 2 linked with the two newcomers to form a new Division 3. At the end of the 1997–98 season the nine clubs remaining in the Premier Division plus the promoted team from Division 1 formed a breakaway Premier League. At the end of the 1999–2000 season two teams were added to the Scottish League. There was no relegation from the Premier League but two promoted from the First Division and three from each of the Second and Third Divisions. One team was relegated from the First Division and one from the Second Division, leaving 12 teams in each division.

Scotland's national team pose before the Euro 2000 match with England. A 2-0 home defeat was followed by a 1-0 Scots win at Wembley. (ASP)

WELSH FOOTBALL 1999–2000

So wrote a reader to the sports editor of the Western Mail newspaper a few days after Wales had taken on Brazil at the new Millennium Stadium in Cardiff last May. They may have been separated by a hundred ranking positions but for an hour, the new-look Welsh side - minus Ryan Giggs - had managed to contain the best team in the world before a ten-minute burst of brilliance from Rivaldo and co swept them away.

Despite closing the roof and narrowing the pitch in an attempt to disrupt the boys from Brazil, Wales were still powerless to prevent them from coasting to victory in front of a record 72,250 crowd. It was an historical night to remember. Roger Freestone, the Swansea City goalkeeper making his debut at the age of 31, could not be faulted with any of the goals, including a breathtaking header from the world's number one player himself, and although Brazil simply stepped up a gear when they needed to, Wales emerged from the game - and indeed the season - with hope that the corner had at last been turned.

The opening sentence of that reader's letter neatly summed up the general reaction to a typically spirited Welsh display. His final paragraph was equally apposite. "Da iawn (very good), lads. Keep it up. I can feel the pride returning each game."

Since replacing Bobby Gould as national manager, Mark Hughes has set about the task of re-building Welsh confidence with a quiet determination. Results may have been less than impressive - four defeats in his first six games in charge - but the Everton midfielder has put in place a more solid structure. After an inspirational 2-1 win in Belarus with Giggs scoring the winner - Wales slipped up badly at home to Switzerland in their final Euro 2000 qualifying match before beating Qatar and then losing to Finland, Brazil and Portugal - three disappointing but not embarrassing defeats. With respect for both the manager and the red shirt restored, the team had more shape. A new generation is anxious to make its mark on the international stage with Norwich City's Craig Bellamy and Matthew Jones of Leeds United leading the way. At just 19, Jones might just be the man to take on the central, and hopefully more creative, midfield mantle while Bellamy has recovered well from a serious knee injury to stake a claim for a regular striker's spot.

That said, the honeymoon is now over and Hughes, having negotiated a four-and-a-half-year contract which allows him to continue playing in the Premiership for half of it, will now be judged on results rather than performances once the 2002 World Cup qualifying campaign begins. Armenia, Ukraine, Poland, Belarus and Norway stand in the way of Wales reaching the finals of a major international tournament for the first time in 44 years.

Domestically, it proved a mixed season for the three Nationwide League clubs. For the second year running, Wrexham struggled to make an impression in Division Two before concluding their campaign with five successive victories during which they conceded no goals. Cardiff City's promotion was sadly short-lived as they lost their manager, a lot of credibility and goodwill and, ultimately, their fight against relegation. An abortive takeover bid by a consortium led by the brother of soft-porn publisher David Sullivan de-stabilised the club. Frank Burrows was sacked and Cardiff slid slowly back towards Division Three. Adding insult to injury, they found themselves changing places with arch rivals Swansea City along the way.

The Swans were determined to avoid a repeat of the heartache of 1999 when they reached the play-off semi-finals. Automatic promotion was the name of the game and - bolstered by a tight defence marshalled superbly by Freestone, Division Three's best goalkeeper - they deservedly made it. Goals at the other end were also at a premium but, aided by a crucial mid-season contribution from their Jamaican joker-in-the-pack, the red-booted Walter Boyd, Swansea emerged as Third Division champions - despite a late stutter. A draw at challengers Rotherham United on the final day of the season secured the vital point but the celebrations were inevitably muted when it was discovered that a Swansea supporter, Terry Coles, a 41-year-old father-of-two, had been trampled to death by a police horse before the match.

After being sacked by Chelsea more than a decade ago, John Hollins restored his reputation by achieving promotion with little or no money but a bucketload of team spirit and enthusiasm. As they prepare to move to the Morfa Stadium at the end of the season, it is to be hoped that the Swans will learn from Cardiff's mistakes and buy a top-class striker on their return to Division Two.

Two of the three Welsh clubs playing in the English non-league pyramid experienced seasons they will want to forget. Both Merthyr and Colwyn Bay narrowly avoided relegation but Newport County finished seventh in the Premier Division of the Dr Martens League – their highest-ever position since being formed 11 years ago.

The four Welsh representatives in Europe all failed to negotiate the first hurdle. Aberystwyth Town lost 4-3 to Malta's Floriana in the Intertoto Cup while Barry Town went down 3-2 to the same island's top team Valletta in the Champions Cup. Cwmbran Town were unsurprisingly brushed aside by Celtic 10-0 while Inter Cardiff put up a brave fight before losing 2-1 on aggregate to Slovenia's NK Gorica and then ran into financial trouble. After a spell as Inter Cable-Tel, a merger with the students of the University of Wales Institute in the capital city means yet another name for the club – Uwic Inter Cardiff.

It was all change, too, in the League of Wales where, after four years of success, Barry were relieved of the championship title. In 1996, they lost a memorable Welsh Cup Final on penalties to the small Mid Wales village side of Llansantffraid. Last season, the same club but with a new name, Total Network Solutions, finished two points clear of Barry thanks to an impressive run during which they dropped only four points out of their last 42. A combination of the enthusiastic sponsorship of local computer company TNS, their effervescent managing director Mike Harris, team manager Andy Cale and general manager Grahame Breeze, means that Llansantffraid are back in the big time – in the Champions League. Barry, who also won the Gilbert League Cup by beating Bangor City 6-0, qualified for the UEFA Cup as league runners-up, along with Bangor who beat Cwmbran Town 1-0 in the Welsh Cup Final. Cwmbran had to be content with a place in the Intertoto Cup after finishing third in the League of Wales while Wrexham regained the FAW Premier Cup by easily overcoming a demoralised Cardiff City side 2-0 at the Racecourse.

Finally, a rare word of praise for the much-maligned members of the Welsh FA - for once, they got it right. Under pressure from Mark Hughes, the friendly against Finland was switched from Ninian Park to the Millennium Stadium and, after reducing prices to a standard £5, the FAW councillors hit the jackpot. A capacity 66,500 crowd turned up for the first football game at the home of Welsh rugby and then 5,750 extra seats were made available for the Brazil match where tickets were priced at £10 and £5 for adults and children respectively.

These two attendances demonstrate that, despite the long-standing but often overstated status of rugby, a huge appetite exists for football in Wales and the councillors deserve a pat on the back for setting the ball rolling by tapping into this reservoir of support. Having negotiated an improved deal with BBC Wales for television coverage, they now want to turn the Millennium Stadium into their permanent home. The only question now is whether Mark Hughes and his players can meet the expectations of a ravenous public and deliver on the pitch? Watch this space.

NORTHERN IRISH FOOTBALL 1999–2000

Northern Ireland football, both domestic and international, is now passing through a crisis phase - never has the situation been more serious or precarious with bankruptcy threatening several clubs. It is a sorry saga.

The non-existence of a political Assembly over the past decades has been a major contributory factor with Government grant aid for ground improvements unable to be released and, consequently, the deterioration at some stadia is alarming. Now, however, with an Administration operating again priority may be given to football. Smirnoff Premiership champions Linfield and Irish Cup holders Glentoran have each been forced to reduce the wage bill of £100,000, a major and vital cost-cutting exercise while clubs are placing an unofficial ceiling on their signing-on and wage structure with players given a take-it-or-leave-it message. "If the money isn't coming in we cannot pay it out - it is as simple as that," said one club official.

Ards, in receivership and with a new board appointed, are searching for a stadium after selling Castlereagh Park to a Scottish property developer to meet pressing creditors. The ground has been put on the market again, and, until it is sold, Ards must wait on their additional pay out. Nothing can be done until then.

Approaches to several other Irish League clubs for ground-sharing have failed while a number who did offer the facilities were unsuitable because of location. Unless a solution is found, Ards could be forced to play all their fixtures away.

They have been allocated a site, only a few hundred yards from Castlereagh Park by highly supportive Newtownards Borough Council, but this will take two years to complete and, of course, everything depends on the release of finance from the developers and various grants from various sources.

And it has been a disastrous year, too, for the Irish FA playing-wise and financially. Elimination from the European championship qualifiers, one win in eight matches, heralded the departure of Lawrie McMenemy and his managerial team, Joe Jordan, Chris Nicholl, and Pat Jennings who declined to take up an extension option on their contract. Sammy McIlroy, former Northern Ireland and Manchester United midfielder who had been with Macclesfield, took over, assisted by Jim Harvey, ex-Arsenal midfielder, now manager of Morecambe.

Meanwhile, after a near £1m profit last season due primarily to £900,000 from live televising and track advertising of the European championship game with Germany, David Bowen, Irish FA general secretary, reported they had made a gross trading loss of £842,000, the first since 1990 which, given the uncertainties of world football, is in itself a remarkable achievement. Cost of playing international football was £500,000 while income from home games had not kept pace with spiralling costs.

"The stark truth is that, when faced with such a financially unpromising World Cup draw against Czech Republic, Denmark, Bulgaria, Iceland and Malta it is imperative that sound fiscal planning and prudence shown previously is maintained," said Bowen.

"Those in decision-making positions must take a mature and measured view of their responsibilities. Participation in expensive and unnecessary matches and tournaments will have a negative effect on other parts of the Associations programmes. Such decisions must be weighed up carefully – balancing our commitments with the resources available for them will be an initial challenge in the new millennium."

McIlroy had initial success against Luxembourg and Malta, a cold douche of reality hit him with the 1-0 defeat by Hungary at Windsor Park and prospects of making an impact in the World Cup don't appear bright.

"I believe I have a reasonably good squad," says McIlroy. "I would, however, like more of them to be regularly competing in Premiership clubs but that could be difficult in view of the import of so many foreigners. I want them to play with passion and pride – just like the teams of the Eighties when we reached the 1982 and 1986 World Cup finals. Those qualities have been missing."

Linfield dominated the Irish Premiership with a soaraway 18-point success, won the Coca-Cola Floodlit Cup; Glentoran collected the Irish Cup, whose Bass sponsorship ended after 22 years, and also the Nationwide Gold Cup and Calor County Antrim Senior Shield while Coleraine, hovering in the relegation zone at Christmas, finished Premiership runners-up under newly-appointed manager Marty Quinn - an astonishing transformation.

Northern Ireland lost one of its football stalwarts with the death of Harry Cavan, CBE, distinguished Irish FA President for more than three decades and senior FIFA vice president who served on various bodies including the Executive and World Cup Organising Committees.

His influence in the corridors of power was immense and, as a stand-in for ex-President Dr Joao Havelange, he earned global respect, especially in Africa and Asia where he had solved so many problems as an intermediary. The Irish FA owe a lot to his administrative expertise, business acumen and diplomatic handling of controversial and delicate issues. He was a true giant of football.

FIFA CLUB WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP 2000

FIFA's Club World Championship as recorded in the official programme – contains contrasting entries respectively for the Champions, Corinthians and England's representatives Manchester United.

'O Corinthian Football Club, da Inglaterra, foi a fonte de inspiracao para a fundacao do clube paulista, em 1910'.

Translated: England's Corinthian Football Club inspired the foundation of the paulista club in 1910.

It went on to say that 'in 1999 alone, Manchester United made about 180m US dollars for merchandising, TV transmission, ticket selling and stock shares.

The two worlds of 1910 for the amateur English Corinthians and the professional Manchester United of today could not be more greatly contrasted, although oddly enough at the beginning of the 1910–11 Football League season, Manchester United were en route to that domestic championship!

In Aidan Hamilton's An Entirely Different Game: The British Influence on Brazilian Football, he has recorded:

'Stories abound about the precise nature of the events which led to the founding of Sport Club Corinthians Paulista. The bare facts are that a group of Brazilians, in the main Sao Paulo Railway employees, were inspired to form a club after watching the English Corinthians – either at the Velodromo or on film of the games screened at the Radium cinema in Sao Paulo. The first meeting is said to have taken place on the evening of 1st September under a street-lamp in the Bom Retiro district. Miguel Bataglia was elected president. Four days later, at a subsequent gathering, the name Corinthians was adopted. Most Corinthianos may not know it, but according to Charles Miller's cousin, Charles Rule, it was Miller who suggested the name to Bataglia.'

Charles Miller was an expatriat Englishman who is credited with bringing the game to Brazil, but the significance of the Corinthians influence was that the tour took place during the August summer holidays from the schools and the then vacation from the Law Courts. For the tour party comprised essentially schoolmasters and practising lawyers on leave from their daily routines. As Hamilton explained, the then Corinthians had been forced to intensify their then touring missionary activity simply because following a breakaway split from the FA with the creation of the Amateur Football Alliance, they were barred from competing against professional and other FA members.

Today, the Corinthian-Casuals, still flying the flag at Tolworth in Surrey, continue their missionary work, mainly in the schools; but during this Millennium year a reciprocal visit from the Sao Paulo Athletic Club of Brazil to Tolworth was a return gesture for the hospitality extended to Corinthian-Casuals a decade ago in 1988 when the great Socrates from the Brazil Corinthians donned a Casuals shirt for part of a match.

Two further contrasts between then and now can be seen from a biography of Charles Miller who died in 1994, by John R. Mills, and the Olympic Games of today. At a banquet ending the Corinthians tour, the visiting captain Morgan-Owen 'did not mention in his speech the small incident – because it was irrelevant and trivial – that had happened in the game against Paulistano. The ball hit the post and on its return, a Corinthian player made the goal, obviously validated by the referee. A barefoot boy, became so upset that he invaded the field, kicked Timmis in the buttocks, and quickly ran off the field. The English were unperturbed and laughed at the incident and the game continued in an atmosphere of perfect chivalry.'

– the last description hardly recognisable as a term for modern sport.

Closer at home, Great Britain represented by England had won the Olympic Games football tournament two years earlier in 1908 with a practising solicitor among its members, Harold Hardman. In due course he became Manchester United's chairman during the 1950s to lead his club into Europe in opposition to the Football League, but with the support of Sir Stanley Rous at the FA; and in turn his place as a solicitor on the United board is now seen through Maurice Watkins who has followed me as President of the British Association for Sport and Law, and is a Governor of Manchester Grammar School.

Thus the blend of the law and teaching professions which took the English Corinthians to inspire foundation of the first FIFA Club World Champions still exists at England's Premier professional League club. With Sir Alex Ferguson's brilliant analysis as told to Hugh McIlvanney in the Sunday Times for the schools to lead the way back to correct techniques, within the Laws of the Game. Old Trafford may yet have a different mission from that which the English Corinthian predecessors of the present Corinthian-Casuals demonstrated in the year of Manchester United's Football League championship season ninety years ago in 1910.

EURO 2000 Finals

So who cares that England returned from Euro 2000 with the three Lions' tails between their legs? The FA Carling Premiership provided players for all but four of the 16 competing nations. Even one of that quartet consisting of Spain, Italy, Slovenia and Yugoslavia managed to have a former Premier League player on duty, none other than Savo Milosevic, once of Aston Villa. Moreover he finished joint leading scorer with Holland's Patrick Kluivert on five goals.

There was the contrast in the final one team fielding a succession of mercenaries, the other with entirely home grown talent. That Italy came close to pulling off a surprise victory over France, might provide further ammunition for those who consider the English game is suffering from a surfeit of foreigners. But 'twas ever so.

For well over a century we have had Scots, Welsh and Irish gracing our game. With one or two exceptions when their actual birthplace was either misplaced or misinterpreted, they have been unable to play international football for England. Nobody made much of a complaint about that situation.

Tiredness clearly cost Italy dearly in the final with France. They were badly treated by having to play their semi-final with Holland a day after France had beaten Portugal. Moreover they had had to battle against the Dutch with ten men for much of the game.

That said, France deserved their overall success because of their commitment to attack, but Italy must have rued the several chances they had of increasing their lead before the French managed a dramatic last gasp equaliser. In fact drama played a leading role in both semi-finals.

Holland having qualified for the last four thanks to a sparkling 6-1 drubbing of Yugoslavia during which there were thoughts of the 'total' football produced by the Dutch a quarter of a century earlier, were right off their game with the Italians.

In addition to playing against ten men, Holland missed two penalties - Frank de Boer having his effort saved and Kluivert hitting a post. They had no excuses. Once again the Dutch temperament let them down at the wrong time. And you knew they would not survive the penalty shoot-out.

France and Portugal seemed to have cancelled each other out in the other semi-final before the match was decided by sudden death in a controversial incident. Abel Xavier handled the ball by the post and after the furore which followed, Zinedine Zidane converted the penalty in the 117th minute.

The tournament as a whole was well received. It got off to a splendidly entertaining start when Belgium beat Sweden 2-1 in Brussels. Alas neither reproduced this form in subsequent matches and failed to qualify.

England threw away a two-goal lead against Portugal and lost 3-2, albeit to a vastly superior outfit and Germany appeared as poor as their pre-match billing had forecast. England did manage to beat Germany for the first time in a competitive match since the 1966 World Cup final, but it was wretched fare. Worse after further examples English exported hooliganism, UEFA threatened to ban us from the tournament.

Portugal went from strength to strength and Romania deservedly beat England 3-2, even though it was a careless tackle by Phil Neville which presented the Romanians with late victory.

Spain appeared to be flattering to deceive again, but participated in what has been described as the finest European Championship game of all time, in which they came back from 3-2 down to snatch injury-time victory over Yugoslavia.

Few tournaments of this nature take place without one meaningless match and Euro 2000 was no exception. Both Holland and France had qualified for the quarter-finals when they met in Amsterdam, the largely French reserves losing 3-2 to Holland.

The quarter-finals saw Portugal beat Turkey 2-0, Italy overcome Romania by the same margin and France edge Spain out 2-1. Holland as previously mentioned clinically disposed of Yugoslavia.

In the final, Italy took the lead after the best move of the game through Marco Delvecchio after 55 minutes and failed to capitalize on other chances. The French stuck gamely to their task against tiring opponents and triumphed with goals from two substitutes, Sylvain Wiltord and David Trezeguet. Wiltord latched onto a tired, attempted headed clearance and fired into the far corner in injury time to force the extra period.

Italy who had been apparently playing out time were stunned and there seemed only one likely winner from then on. As it was a superb volley from David Trezeguet settled it in the 103rd minute.

Outstanding individuals were Zinedine Zidane, Thierry Henry and Laurent Blanc of France; Francesco Toldo and Alessandro Nesta (Italy), Luis Figo (Portugal), Cristian Chivu (Romania) and Edgar Davids (Holland).

The statistics of Euro 2000, the first major competition to be played in two countries Holland and Belgium, produced 85 goals in 31 matches, 126 yellow and 10 red cards. The attendance aggregate was 1,101,650 and the average crowd 35,537.

WOMEN'S FOOTBALL 1999–2000

Effectively the three strongest clubs contested all the major honours last season. Croydon Ladies won the most prestigious title – that of the National Division for the second successive season with Doncaster Belles and Arsenal Ladies in second and third places respectively. Croydon also appeared in both of the Finals in the Cup competitions.

The AXA F.A. Women's Cup was won by Croydon, who defeated the Doncaster Belles 2-1, with goals from Carmaine Walker and Gemma Hunt, with a consolation goal for Doncaster scored by Vicky Exley. The game was played at Brammal Lane in front of 3,434 spectators.

Arsenal refused to be denied and they took the Premier League Cup with a 4-1 victory of Croydon at Barnet's Underhill ground with over 1,000 spectators present. This was their third successive triumph and their sixth in all, in this competition. They thus attained their twelfth Trophy in eight seasons. They were also successful in winning both the League and Cup in the Women's Premier League Reserve Section. These competitions were introduced for the first time last season. In the League Arsenal finished eleven points clear of Southampton Saints notching 107 goals in the process, whilst in the Cup Final they defeated Leeds 5-1.

In the other lower two divisions of the National League the Northern Section was won by Blyth Spartans Kestrels, with Bangor City thirteen points behind. Bradford City and Arnold Town were relegated. In the Southern Division, Barry Town were champions on goal difference from Brighton with Three Bridges and Whitehawk relegated.

Both the Northern and Southern Divisions were expanded to twelve apiece, confirming the still growing trend in the onward development of Women's football. This has seen the game promoted by Sky Sports with whom a contract has been signed and the commitment shown by the Football Association to try to move to a professional League in the next three years.

There are now 31 Centres of Excellence giving specialised coaching to girls between the ages of ten and sixteen and 8 Licensed Academies for the older age groups, with more on the way. The pilot scheme was at the East Durham Community College.

AVON INSURANCE COMBINATION 1999–2000

Millwall deservedly won the Avon Insurance Combination, narrowly seeing off the challenge of Queens Park Rangers and Ipswich Town. A 1-0 win in their last match over a strong Wycombe Wanderers team aided and abetted by a last minute penalty save by Nigel Spink gave the Lions their first Combination title since 1993.

Queens Park Rangers, Ipswich, Fulham and Bristol City were always in the running but Millwall finally triumphed by a three point margin in what was a close and exciting title race.

Steve Gritt did an excellent job in welding together a potent mix of youngsters and experienced professionals who lost only one game all season, with former Arsenal striker Paul Shaw leading the way with ten goals in as many games. Spink, Bobby Bowry and Jamie Stuart provided the necessary experience with youngsters Leke Odunsi, Leon Cort, Byron Bubb, Joe Dolan and Ronnie Bull all showing great promise for the future.

For the second season running Ipswich provided the League's leading scorer in the Swede Jonas Axeldal and Fulham's Kevin Betsy also emphasised his prowess in front of goal.

The main purpose of the Combination is to encourage the development of young talent and even without the presence of the Premiership teams last season, many players emerged who are likely to make their names in the near future.

Sean Davis of Fulham who scored a wonder goal against Brighton, Nathan Lamey and Tom Youngs of Cambridge United, KK Opara of Colchester United, Richard Logan of Ipswich, Ben Strevens of Barnet, Gary O'Neil of Portsmouth, Chris McPhee of Brighton, Damien Spencer and Simon of Bristol City and Bobby Zamora of Bristol Rovers amongst many others, are all names to take note of.

Congratulations are also due to Plymouth Argyle (Division Two Champions), AFC Bournemouth (League Cup Winners) and Cardiff City (Division Two League Cup Winners).

Norwich City won the Avon Insurance Enterprise Award for their excellent Family Night Football and Junior Roadshow schemes.

Avon Insurance are about to enter the seventh season of their sponsorship which has been extended to the end of the 2002-03 season by which time it will be one of the longest lasting sponsorships in English football.

From the start of the 2000-01 season, Avon Insurance will, in addition, be sponsoring the Avon Insurance League (formerly the Pontin's League) ensuring sponsorship of Nationwide League reserve team football on a national basis and providing additional opportunities for Avon Insurance to enhance their Broker relationships.

STRUCTURAL REVISIONS

The entire peak of the pyramid system in non-league football will be changed in two years time. Following meetings with the Northern Premier, Southern and Isthmian Leagues, the Nationwide Conference intends that as from the commencement of the 2002-03 season, the Northern Premier League and Southern Football League will be the only recognised feeder leagues to the Nationwide Conference.

The constitution of both competitions will be derived from the clubs in the Northern Premier, Southern and Isthmian Leagues. It is anticipated that this will create the opportunity for increased promotion into the Nationwide Conference.

LEAGUE MANAGERS ASSOCIATION

The League Managers Association has developed into a major representative voice in the administration of football, which has brought increasing benefits for its members who are drawn from the professional ranks of the game.

With headquarters in Leamington Spa, the LMA was formed coincidentally in the year of the inauguration of the Premier League. Leading among the pioneers in its formation was Watford and former England manager Graham Taylor whose vision was collective representation for all Premiership and football League managers as the profile and demands on them became increasingly relevant.

The last decade has been one of overwhelming change for football and perhaps the most eventful period in the game's development. The formation of the Premier League itself heralded a change in structure and this was followed by the escalation in television rights through the associations with Sky and the Bosman judgement, which so dramatically affected the movement of players and heralded the arrival in this country of many overseas players from around the world. All these factors directly affected the role of the manager within the game.

Taylor's own motivation was a conviction that managers generally possessed a vast store of knowledge and experience, which was not being transmitted back for the benefit of the game as a whole. There was no recognised way for them to express their views to the legislators and decision makers.

By forming an association into which this information could be channelled the managers therefore won the recognition of both the Football Association and the Premier and Football Leagues. As the years have passed there has been an ever-increasing input from the managerial ranks and advice is sought from the LMA on a regular basis.

One of the most significant early breakthroughs was the introduction into the Premier League regulations of a Code of Conduct governing the appointment of managers and the termination of their contracts. This now means that LMA members in that league have a greater protection in the event of losing their jobs than they have ever had with similar safeguards for the clubs in relation to their managers being approached during the period of their contracts. Most club managers have realised that by using the LMA to fine-tune the wording of their contracts they now have a greater job protection than they have ever enjoyed.

There have been numerous other initiatives in regard to pensions, disciplinary procedures, the setting up of academies and the study of youth development both here and abroad.

In keeping with the developments in Information Technology, the LMA have, in partnership with Cisco Systems, introduced its members to the use of the Internet with the aim being that every club manager will eventually have a means of communication in keeping with the new century.

Part of that development has been the formation of the LMA website which not only features football news items but which contains a directory and CV of all members and on which can be found all the latest information connected to the organisation. This can be found on www.leaguemanagers.com.

The LMA has continued with its Performance of the Week award, which in the last season was once again sponsored by Scottish Mutual. A dedicated panel of managers, chaired by LMA chairman Howard Wilkinson, and including Graham Taylor, Sir Alex Ferguson, David Bassett and Barry Fry make the selections.

A new innovation last season was the introduction of a 'Cisco Kid' a panel of current and former international managers chaired by Bobby Robson selecting a young player of each month.

In addition the LMA has its own annual awards dinner at which members recognise the achievements of their colleagues in each division with the supreme award of Managers Manager of the Year, a title awarded in 1999–2000 to Charlton's Alan Curbishley.

The Carling Premiership award went to Sir Alex Ferguson with David Moyes winning the Division Two award and John Hollins Division Three. A further special award went to David Sexton for his services to football, the presentations being made by England coach Kevin Keegan.

The late John Camkin, whose own drive was a significant factor in the LMA's early development was the first Chief Executive of the LMA and at various stages since Frank Clark, Steve Coppell, Jim Smith and Gordon Milne have filled the position.

Since 1996, however, the LMA have had the benefit of a Chief Executive who took a conscious decision to make the job a career. John Barnwell, the former Peterborough, Wolves, Notts County, Walsall and Northampton manager has been a real driving force in progressing the status and influence of the LMA combining a lifetime's experience in football with a shrewd business brain which has helped improve the status of football managers. His deputy, Olaf Dixon, has been with the LMA since its inauguration and lends his invaluable experience into running the headquarters in Leamington.

REFEREES AND THE LAWS OF THE GAME

For the second successive year there were very few changes to the Laws of the Game. However, one fundamental alteration is likely to revolutionise universally the way football is played. It is yet another variation to the form in which the goalkeeper is allowed to fashion his/her art but this time it is positive and not restrictive. For the first time in more than half a century the 'keeper is free to control and carry the ball without having to drop it, bounce it or watch his steps. Provided he does not infringe the rules about receiving the ball from a colleague's foot or throw-in, he now has 6 seconds from clean control to part with it or drop it to his feet. This is an amalgam of the current 5/6 seconds provision and what was prevalent (although prohibited by the Laws) in the Italian Leagues some four to five years ago. Indeed one might go so far as to say, had this Law been introduced earlier, with a 4-second limit, there would have been no need to have created what is commonly referred to as the "back-pass" rule. Three areas that the Officials will now have to watch out for are (a) the strict timing of the 6 seconds (b) the re-use of the fair shoulder charge and (c) goalkeepers "cutting the line" of the penalty area with their feet or hands.

It will now be a sending-off offence to use offensive gestures. This area had previously been omitted and was inconsistent with the cautioning provisions on dissent. Heavy pressure from the North Middlesex Referees' Society encouraged this change which will be immensely helpful in junior football.

Another problem has been solved in respect of penalty shoot-outs. Although not part of the open play, they seem to have assumed enormous importance in cup competitions. Formerly it was unclear what happened if one team finished with more players than the other and all the kicks had been equally successful or unsuccessful. The new rule indicates that when a team finishes the match with a greater number of players than their opponents, they should reduce their numbers to equate with that of their opponents.

The International Board has reiterated their prohibition against advertising on the surrounds of the pitch i.e. Technical area, a metre on the ground outside the field or the goal-line and goal-nets. The Fourth Official receives some additional responsibility and Referees are reminded to demand a penalty re-take on encroachment.

Whilst all of these rules apply to football at all levels world wide, there is to be a further experiment, this time in the Premier and Nationwide Leagues, of penalising teams who are guilty of unsporting behaviour. Where players show dissent, encroach or delay a restart, the Referee apart from issuing a caution is allowed to move the ball forward ten yards inwards towards the direction of the goal. This can only happen once unless the offence is repeated. Unfortunately if it is moved into the penalty area, it becomes a direct free kick and not a penalty thus leading to considerable confusion. If successful it is expected that this system will be implemented into the Laws next season.

On the domestic front although there has been a blending of Officials again, in the Four Divisions, thus altering the elite system nonetheless the Premiership retains its own list of Referees and "Assistants". Two who disappear from the Premier list are Messrs Alcock and Rennie who are replaced by Messrs Dean, Styles and Taylor. Well-known Referees who have retired include Messrs Read, Wilkie, Burns, Lynch and Heilbron. One of those, Alan Wilkie refereed last season's Worthington Cup Final in which Wendy Toms as Assistant Referee became the first woman to officiate in a leading men's Cup Final at Wembley. The FA Cup Final went to Graham Poll who was also England's refereeing representative at Euro 2000 whilst Assistant Referee Phil Sharp officiated there in one Semi final. The said Mrs Toms has been chosen as a Great Britain refereeing representative at the forthcoming Olympic Games.

FOOTBALL AND THE LAW

Football and the Law in the New Millennium is more a story of off-field activities than of what happens on it. The deaths of two Leeds United supporters in Turkey were an echo of the greater tragedy at Hillsborough in 1989. This still haunts wider memories beyond the bereaved while criminal manslaughter proceedings are taking place as these pages are being prepared; and in entirely unrelated criminal proceedings, professional players with Leeds United are awaiting trial, again for circumstances occurring beyond the fields of play.

Yet again, with echoes of the recent past, the anticipated crowd riots at Brussels during the Euro 2000 competition recalled the troubles at Marseilles during the World Cup competition of 1998.

The questions of what should be done raised queries of civil liberties. The German authorities, fired up by the fatality to a police officer and injuries caused in France apparently legislated for passport surrender on suspicion of anticipated offences, while the United Kingdom Parliament was unable to create any effective deterrent, with the ultimate threat by UEFA of expulsion from the tournament.

During the inevitable inquests, the most significant comment came from retired High Court judge, Sir Oliver Popplewell, who had reported on the Bradford City Valley Parade fire disaster of 1985. He wrote to The Times how, while his report was gathering dust in the Home Office, much evidence was produced about the cause of hooliganism which would inform the Home Secretary without his being much the wiser. That goes to the root of the problem which no one has yet been able to identify with clarity and thereby provide a remedy. What is often over-looked, however, is our editor Jack Rollin's assessment under the head of "Soccer Behaviour" in an Appendix to the 3rd Edition of Sport and the Law:

"During the inter-war years, two fifths of the 88 Football League clubs attracted their highest attendance figures. None of these events was accompanied by serious crowd disturbances." He then proceeded to identify contrasting patterns of playing behaviour before and after the Second World War of 1939-1945.

In the following Appendix, my solicitor son Harry, at my special request, produced under the title of Hooligan-free Football Grounds: Record Attendances in England and Wales (1919-39) the following lists in order of crowd size during national unemployment of an estimated three million; but no recorded violence or criminality appears at any of the crowd attendance records listed below:

Club	Crowd	Date	Occasion

Exeter City	20,984	4 Mar 1931	FA Cup 6
Wimbledon	18,000	1932/33	FA Amateur Cup

On three occasions at Burnley (1924), Huddersfield Town (1932) and Fulham (1938), casualties were caused by crush crowd circumstances; but not by violence.

Thus, as Sir Oliver Popplewell explains, we may be better informed, but shall we ever be wiser in trying to understand why the beautiful game today attracts thuggery off the field which it never experienced during the periods listed above?

The FOOTBALL TRUST

Helping the game

NATIONAL SHAME TO NATIONAL PRIDE

TRUST CLOSURE SIGNALS END OF A GLORIOUS ERA OF STADIUM REBUILDING FOLLOWING HILLSBOROUGH TRAGEDY

From the shame of Hillsborough to stadia fit to stage a World Cup Finals, the closure of the Football Trust signals the end of its role in the most groundbreaking era of stadia redevelopment ever seen anywhere in the world.

The Trust's work will be taken over by a brand new body with a new remit dedicated towards investing in the grassroots of the game. The new body will be called the Football Foundation and will be funded by the Premier League, the Football Association, Sport England and the Government.

The Football Trust has invested some £400 million in our national game at all levels, from junior sides right the way up to rebuilding our magnificent homes of football throughout the United Kingdom.

Our grounds have been transformed from crumbling edifices to some of the best and safest in Europe if not the world, supporters have flocked back to the game in record numbers and the industry certainly at the top level, is continuing to boom.

Our legacy includes:

- 15 new grounds
- 160 new and refurbished stands
- 55 new community and family facilities
- 25 new facilities for spectators with disabilities
- 100 new PA systems
- 50 new sets of floodlights
- 30 new stadium control rooms

The introduction of CCTV surveillance equipment throughout football has proved the single most important measure in the campaign against football hooliganism and this has largely been paid for by the Trust.

The Football in the Community Programme owes its existence to the Trust and its investment of some £5.5m. Substantial investment has been made in training facilities and youth development.

The major projects at our professional clubs for the last financial year include:

Chairman Tom Pendry MP stated:

"The implementation of the Taylor Report's recommendations has transformed football and the Trust has played a huge part in this transformation. From Newcastle United to Northampton Town supporters in every division can now enjoy safe and comfortable facilities. We are proud of our achievements.

"Thanks to our investment this country can boast the finest football grounds in the world. Grounds to grace the 2006 World Cup.

"With the stadium rebuilding work all but complete, football must now turn its attention to tackling the problems at the grassroots of the game and we will be doing just that with the imminent launch of the Football Foundation."

FOOTBALL CLUB CHAPLAINCY

ENCOURAGING COMPARISONS

The autumn 1999 Football Chaplains' Conference occurred at around the fifteenth anniversary of the first such gathering and, naturally, therefore presented an interesting opportunity for some comparisons to be made - interesting, and particularly for those who understand or who have experienced first hand the huge advantages that a well appointed chaplain can bring to a football club, most encouraging.

Back in 1984 a dozen or so chaplains from Football League clubs met in conference for the first time. They were representative of some sixteen or eighteen such men and, whilst some clubs even then had had chaplains for perhaps twenty years, this was in most cases a relatively new, even experimental, area of Christian ministry. By 1999 there were nearly a hundred serving football chaplains in the country with perhaps a quarter of them to be found in non-league outfits and a growing representation in Scotland and Northern Ireland reflecting the advances among the Premiership and Football League clubs.

However, numbers alone do not tell the full story. Whilst the pioneer chaplains from the 1984 conference who were present at its 1999 successor were thrilled (and humbled) by the sheer size of it, the fact is that the standing and the involvement of the football chaplains have similarly increased.

RESPECT IN FOOTBALL AND CHURCH

This was to be discerned in several ways. Firstly, the respect with which both football and the churches regard the chaplains has grown significantly over the last decade and a half, and was witnessed at the 1999 conference by the presence as major speakers both of Mr John Barnwell, the Chief Executive since 1996 of the League Managers' Association, and the Rev David Coffey, the General Secretary of the Baptist Union of Great Britain (the Baptist equivalent of the Archbishop of Canterbury, as the Conference members were helpfully informed in their briefing packs!). Men of such authority as this simply do not and cannot give of their precious time to speak to fringe gatherings or ones that lack credibility. Equally, Mr Howard Wells, the Chief Executive of Premier League club Watford, was evidently pleased to address the 1999 chaplains' conference on its final morning.

Another example of the way in which our sport regards football chaplaincy in general and individual chaplains in particular lies in the fact that their annual conferences are now sponsored by the Premier League and are hosted at the National Sport and Recreation Centre at Lilleshall - although readers who might therefore hope to see the Premiership logo appearing on chaplains' surplices or preaching gowns as a result of this backing will remain disappointed for some while to come!

Nevertheless, the attitude or style of the football chaplains is perhaps rather different from that of more typical churchmen. It can be seen in the fact that they do choose to gather at Lilleshall rather than at one of the acknowledged retreat and conference centres which the churches own that are sited around the country. These clergy are just as much at home and at ease worshipping in a lecture hall as in a chapel and in the company of men and women (the Great Britain Olympics ladies hockey team was also at Lilleshall at the same time!) of the world as they are with their regular congregations and especially is this so with other sports persons.

INSPIRATION

Interestingly too, our football chaplains have become the inspiration (no pun intended!) for the opening up of chaplaincies in several other sports, major and minor, team and individual, and as the validity and worth of their ministry is increasingly understood and recognised so the number of clergy who are engaged full time in sports ministry has grown steadily.

'PASTORS AND TEACHERS'

Finally, it has often been pointed out to regular readers of this page that the pastoral caring role of a football chaplain can be and has frequently proved to have been of enormous value to a football club and its employees - one of the football based speakers at the 1999 conference described it as being 'of vital importance' - but the Adidas Football Scholarship Scheme, about to enter its third season, has prompted a widening of his role at the clubs which have established an Academy. Not only has the Professional Footballers Association, who were prime movers in the establishment of the details of the Academies' curriculum, asked clubs to engage their chaplains, or to provide one, to deliver certain of the modules, but some clubs are discovering that their chaplain is also a gifted teacher and communicator as well as an experienced pastor who has been able to offer and present other areas of the curriculum as well - to the various pleasure, delight and relief of their hard-pressed Education and Welfare officers, even if, initially at least, it was also to the astonishment of the young student footballers whose dealings and understanding of clergymen had previously been somewhat limited!

OBITUARY

THE REV MICHAEL LOWE

Michael Lowe was the ebullient, larger than life chaplain at Bournemouth for seven years before his death in December 1999. His ministry was hugely respected and appreciated at Dean Court, indeed in the entire Bournemouth area, and even when suffering increasingly from the motor neurone disease which forced his retirement from Christchurch Priory in 1997 he continued to serve The Cherries as fully as his condition would allow. As Bournemouth's Chairman, Trevor Watkins, put it: 'Michael was a friend, a confidant to everyone at our club, and a tremendous supporter of it.' Bournemouth fans are joined in their loss by the other chaplains who mourn their former colleague.

OBITUARIES

Thomas 'Bud' Aherne (b Limerick 26.1.19; d 1.00). A full-back, 'Bud' started out with Belfast Celtic after the Second World War and went on to win 16 caps for the Republic of Ireland. He also gained four caps for Northern Ireland. He joined Luton Town in March, 1949 and went on to play 267 League games for the Hatters.

Emilio Aldecoa (b Bilbao, Spain 30.11.22; d Spain 9.99). An inside-left, Emilio was a Basque refugee from the Spanish Civil War, who came to England in 1937. He joined Wolves in 1943 and was their leading goalscorer in wartime League and Cup matches with 11 goals in 30 games. In 1945, he joined Coventry and made 29 appearances. He returned to Spain in 1947 and played for Barcelona.

Martin Aldridge (b Northampton 6.12.74; d 30.1.00). Martin died tragically in a car crash following a match for Rushden and Diamonds earlier this year. He was on loan to them from Blackpool, but also played for Northampton Town, Oxford United and had further loan spells with Dagenham and Redbridge and Southend United. A forward with good pace, Martin scored 44 goals in a total of 175 League games.

George Ashall (b Killamarsh 29.9.11; d 5.98). George played pre-war football for Wolves, scoring 14 times in 84 League games, before moving to Coventry City in 1938, where he hit a further ten goals in 62 League matches.

Chris Balderstone (b Huddersfield 16.11.40; d 6.3.00). A highly successful cricketer (with Yorkshire and Leicestershire) and footballer, who went on to become a first class umpire. On one occasion, he was playing cricket for Leicestershire until 6.30pm, but having scored 51 not out, he was required to play for Doncaster Rovers an hour later. He took part in a one all draw against Brentford that evening, then resumed his innings the following day to complete a century and take three wickets! On the football field, he was a clever forward who played for Huddersfield Town (117 League appearances), Carlisle United (376 League games), Doncaster Rovers (39 League matches) and Queen of the South (24 League appearances).

Les Bennett (b Wood Green 10.1.18; d 29.4.99). A Tottenham forward who hit 102 goals in 272 League games for Spurs between 1946 and 1954. He completed his first class career with West Ham United (26 League appearances, 3 goals).

Dave Bickles (b West Ham 6.1.44; d 11.99). A half-back, who played alongside Bobby Moore and Martin Peters at West Ham between 1963 and 1967. After 25 League games, he moved on to Crystal Palace, but left for Colchester United (68 League games and 3 goals) before he had made a League appearance for Palace.

Ronald William Charles Bower (b Wrexham 17.11.11; d 12.98). An amateur with New Brighton in 1930, he made 20 League appearances as a defender, before moving to South Liverpool in 1935. Bill started out on an amateur basis, then followed his father to Fulham, for whom he signed professional forms in September, 1949. A centre-half, he made 35 appearances for the Cottagers, before moving to Arsenal in December, 1952. At Highbury he had 191 League outings and made an Under-23 appearance for England against Italy. He left Rangers in August of that year and took over the hot seat at Fulham in December, 1968. But, as at QPR, he was unable to prevent the club being relegated. He scored a hat trick in England's first post-war international – a 7-2 victory over Northern Ireland. In 1947, he was selected for Great Britain against the Rest of Europe and scored twice in a fine 6-1 win. His last international was in 1951 against Scotland, but he was unfortunately stretchered from the field after fracturing a cheekbone. Wilf won 26 caps and scored 11 goals. After the war, Stan returned to Stoke, but found himself out of favour following an injury. Blackpool drew massive attendances wherever they played and the club had wonderful Cup runs, culminating in final appearances in 1948 and 1951.
